THE ALABAMA TREATY.

The London Times and Lord Stanley on the Subject.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 19.—The London Times, in an article on the appointment of Mr. Motley as Minister to England, says:

"The country has gone to the extreme of concession in the matter of the Alabama claims. It has agreed to refer everything, except its own honor, to arbitration and to the judgment of a mixed Commission. It has agreed to give Americans, who profess to have been wronged, every opportunity to assert their claims, by providing that the Commission shall hold its sittings at Washington. Except absolute submission to every demand the Americans may choose to make, there is nothing further that could be conceded. The Convention, in which all this is stipulated, has been the work of their own Minister and Secretary of State, and has received the assent of their own President. If they now set it aside, our duty will simply be to abstain altogether from further overtures and let any proposals for a renewal of negotiations proceed from the American Government. As for that down-right demand for payment, which our Philadelphia correspondent describes as having been advocated in the United States, this country would of course know how to treat it; but we have not the smallest belief that President Grant's Government contemplates a course of action so unfriendly and offensive.

"It is likely, assuming the present Alabama convention to be set aside, Mr. Motley will be instructed to open negotiations for any other, differing somewhat in machinery, but embodying similar principles. Should this be the case, our Government will be ready to give the proposals a fair consideration. Should it, on the other hand, be the desire of the Americans to keep the question still unsettled, the British nation, having fully manifested its good disposition, will not feel bound, however, to initiate fresh negotiations. In any case, we shall welcome Mr. Motley, not only as an old friend, but as one who has the confidence of a really powerful Executive and of the most powerful party in the United States."

Lord Stanley, in a recent speech at Glasgow, said, in reference to the Alabama treaty: "Notwithstanding the failure of the late negotiations, I do not think I can bring myself to take a gloomy view of these relations. For my part, I have very great faith in the good sense of the American people. I cannot think they can wish to increase their difficulties by getting into any fresh quarrels. Whatever happens, we have secured the main point. We have satisfied our own consciences, and we have put our country unmistakably in the right. I will only add, that to my mind questions affecting the external relations of the country, questions, that is, which in their ultimate result may involve the issue of war or peace, are incomparably greater than any others with which the politicians in our day have to deal with. We may quarrel among ourselves, and make it up again, probably with not much damage on the one hand, if not with much gain on the other. But whatever may be our feelings, or the position in reference to new internal disputes, it is the duty of all of us, as regards the outside world, to see our country show a united front. Certainly, if any diplomatic difficulty should arise, I should feel it my duty, so far as I could conscientiously, to endeavor to strengthen the hands of whoever might be the foreign Minister of the day."

Preparations for an Expedition from New Orleans.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, April 19.—A special says: Preparations are actively on foot in this vicinity for a formidable and well organized expedition to aid the insurgent Cubans, and no doubt will be of a serious character. Men are being engaged rapidly and sworn to secresy, and numbers of brass howitzers have recently been purchased here and sent to some unknown destination. There seems to be no lack of money, but there being so much blowing on the streets corners and so much publicity and gasconade that the matter may drop through from pure mismanagement. The government officers either cannot or will not take steps to prevent movements, and no definite instructions can be obtained.

From Washington it is stated that the command was tendered to Harry Hazen, an ex-Confederate Major General, who thought his personal popularity among old soldiers, and a knowledge of Spanish warfare, would collect around him in a day's notice two or three thousand vetrans, and very considerable pecuniary inducements have been held out to him, but he declines on the ground that he is too old and has too good a law practice to give it up. General Steadman remains the probable leader. He is brave, but wanting in prudence and discretion; if he gets off he will make either a stirring success or a most complete failure. Collector Casey, who is a brother-in-law of the President, says openly that he does not want to hear or know anything about expeditions of any kind, and Mr. Morgan says his appeals to Washington for definite instructions are answered only with vague generalities. Marshal Herron, who recently returned from Washington, hints that he shall keep up appearances, but do little.

HAVANA, April 19.—The Marine Court has rendered a final decision, declaring the American brig Mary Lowell a legally captured prize.

There are rumors of heavy engagements between troops and rebels near Remedios. No particulars.

The Spanish war steamer Lealatad has gone to San Jago.

Sugar quiet and steady.

CHICAGO.

Extraordinary Storm in the West—A Village Conflagration — Newspaper Change.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, April 19.—The storm of yesterday was one of the severest and most extensive that has occurred here for a long time. It extended nearly the whole length of this State, and west as far as the Mississippi river. At Bloomington the Catholic Church, not yet completed, was blown down, involving a loss of fifty thousand dollars. The Church, when completed, would have cost one hundred thousand dollars. The Bloomington Manufacturing Company suffered considerably. Ludington & Roads' warehouse was unroofed. Several others suffered more or less from the effects of the storm.

At Girard and Verden, Macoupin county, hail stones fell as big as hen's eggs, and nearly every pane of glass was destroyed on the northwest sides of the buildings. The whole surface of the country is covered with water.

At Elgin the house of Jerome Wiltsie was struck by lightning, severely injuring a man and a boy who were sitting near a stove. Considerable damage was done at Ottowa, Peoria and other points in this State.

In this city the storm was fierce and the thunder and lightning vivid and almost continuous for six or eight hours.

At Dubuque a tornado passed over the city. The residence of Mr. Kniser was blown down, he killed and his wife seriously injured. Several houses were unroofed.

About three o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in an unoccupied building, in Cherry Valley, Winnebago, Ill., and before it was discovered the flames had spread so that the fire was beyond control. Almost the entire business portion of the village was consumed, including Messrs. Howe & Terrey's brick block, the post office, the dry goods store of B. B. Blacos, Farley & Havey's grocery, Oscar King's drug store, and Wm. Slator's saloon and an unoccupied building fitting up as a grocery by Jno. McKee, J. B. Lea's grocery, and an unoccupied building adjoining, owned by C. A. Dunwell. The loss will reach over $30,000, with an insurance of less than one-half.

The Post of this evening says it is rumored that an entire change is about to take place in the office of the Chicago Republican, Mr. Leonard, of Springfield, who has for some time been financial agent of Mr. Jacob Munn, the principal proprietor of the paper, becoming the business manager, and Mr. Higgins, of the present editorial corps, the managing editor. Messrs. Smith, Ballantyne and Williston, it is understood, end their connection with the paper.

Ex Senator J. R. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, is now in this city, and it is rumored that he is about to establish himself in the practice of law in Chicago.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Vice President of the United States, and wife, were in this city to-day, stopping only a few hours to do some shopping. They returned to South Bend this evening.

The Adjutant General's Office of the Military Division, Lieut. Gen. Sheridan commanding, was removed to this city to-day.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

—The newspaper Crescent, at New Orleans, has been merged in the Times.

—C. A. Dana has declined the Appraisership of the port of New York, to which he was recently confirmed.

—Joseph Hessar has been sentenced to be hanged on the 4th of June next, for the murder of his wife, in Penfield, N. Y.

—Immense quantities of ice are passing down the Niagara river. The recent warm rains have broken up the ice on Lake Erie, and navigation will open at an early day.

—Wm. H. Rice, of Quincy, Illinois, was found dead in bed at the St. James Hotel, at Cincinnati, Sunday night. The verdict of the inquest was that death was caused from appoplexy.

—On Saturday last, the last rail was laid on the Louisville, Lexington and Cincinnati Branch Railroad, making one hundred and four miles between Covington and Louisville. Cars will not run for a week or two.

—Commissioners were appointed on Saturday in Chillicothe, Ohio, to obtain a charter for a railroad from Newark via Lancaster and Chillicothe to Maysville, and open books for subscription. A committee was appointed to confer with the Pennsylvania Central. The meeting was large.

—A dispatch from Atlanta says: Dr. Benjamin Ayer, one of the Georgia delegation to Washington, the oldest member of the Georgia Legislature and a strunch Republican, was brutally and inhumanly murdered near his home in Jefferson county, by the Ku Klux Klan, on Thursday last. He was found in the public road shot through the head. This is the first of the Georgia delegation who has perished by the wayside, according to the expressed wish of the New Era.

—Two convicts, Schoonever and Harvey, who attempted to escape from the Indiana Penitentiary, were apprehended a short distance from Louisville, on Saturday. Harvey was shot and wounded while trying to make the Kentucky shore. Another convict, Saltwell, scaled the wall, but was seen and ordered to return. He, however, disregarded the command and was fired at twice, the second shot taking effect below the breast, but he ran notwithstanding until captured.

—At an early hour Sunday morning, burglars entered J. H. Capell's jewelry store, No. 169 North Fourth street, St. Louis, and carried off about three thousand dollars worth of property, including two dozen gold spectacles, three dozen gold and six dozen silver thimbles, twenty-six old watches left for repairs, thirty silver hunting watches, six dozen gold pens, thirty scarf pins, a lot of gold bracelets, all the finger rings, several finger rings in the show cases, including three hundred fine gold rings, several gold watches, sleeve buttons, jewelry sets, diamond scarf pins, lockets, charms, and a number of valuable chain-bracelets. None of the plate was disturbed, and a show carse filled with sets of ladies' jewelry was not molested. An attempt was made to open the safe, but it failed. The thieves entered the store through the skylight, letting themselves down by a rope, and left by the back door. No clue to the robbers.

Proposition to Settle the Alabama Claims Question by the Surrender of the British North American Possessions—War-like Speech of Mr. Chandler, of Michigan—Appointments Sent in and Confirmed—Special Cabinet Meeting.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, April 19, 1869.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

The President pro tem submitted a memorial of the American Emigration Society of London, praying that assistance be granted to persons who wish to emigrate to the United States. The paper had been sent to the Vice President by the American Minister, at the request of its signers.

On motion of Mr. Hamlin, it was tabled.

The President pro tem also submitted a petition of S. D. Sullivan for the removal of his political disabilities, and a resolution of the Union League of Virginia, entreating Congress to refuse all applications for the removal of political disabilitites, unless such appliations are endorsed by the regular Republican organization of the county in which the parties respectively reside. Referred to Select Committee on Political disabilities.

In the Senate, Mr. Chandler offered a resolution that the President be directed to open negotiations with England for the settlement of all open questions on the basis of the surrender of all the British North American possessions to the United States.

Mr. Chandler read a long extract from his former speeches to show that he originated the position now assumed by the Committee on Foreign Relations, and insisted that if his advice had been followed heretofore, the Alabama and all other claims would not now remain unsettled, but that if the resolutions he offered, looking to the withdrawal of our Minister and non-intercourse, had been adopted, such claims would have been paid in thirty days.

Mr. Chandler concluded as follows: The resolution he had offered to-day afforded the only peaceful solution of our difficulties. We have had treaty and treaty, and rejected them. This leads to irritation. He uttered the same sentiments now that he did two years and a half ago. He would have required a mortgage for the amount due. The mortgage was recorded and the security good. He believed we had now put this matter on a proper basis. If Great Britain should meet us in a friendly spirit, acknowledge her wrong and cede all her interests in the Canadas in settlement of these claims, we will have perpetual peace with Great Britain. But if she does not, we must conquer peace. We cannot afford to have any enemy's base so near to us. It is a national necessity that we should have the British posessions. He hoped that such a negotiation would be opened, and that it will be a peaceful one; but if it should not be, and England insists on war, then let the war be short, sharp and decisive. If war should come, he would say now that the six hundred thousand veterans of Michigan would take the contract to capture the Canadas in thirty days, without a man or gun from any other state. But there will be no war. Great Britain does not desire war with the United States. When our Ministers abroad proclaimed this government overthrown, because they were nearly all in the interest of secession, it was not wonderful that it was so thought abroad. France thought it was time to make up an Empire from the late United States. Great Britain and France were in accord with the rebellion. If the United States had been overthrown, the Empire would have been established; but the United States were not overthrown, and therefore the Empire was not established. Upon the Emperor Napoleon being informed that the occupation of Mexico would lead to war with one million men, he withdrew his army from Mexico. He had staked the cause of the Empire on the success of the rebellion. Great Britain staked her Empire on the sea. She knew the rebellion must succeed, or she must abandon the continent. In conclusion, Mr. Chandler expressed the hope that the resolution would be passed.

Mr. Sumner moved the resolution be referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, and it was so referred.

Messrs. Cole and Casserly denied having authorized the statement telegraphed to the New York World, that there would be a called session of Congress.

Mr. Kellogg offered a resolution directing the examination of the bars at the mouth of the Mississippi, and a report as to the best mode of removing the obstructions to commerce. Agreed to.

The Senate then, at 1:30, proceeded to the consideration of executive business.

NOMINATIONS SENT IN.

The following nominations were sent in to-day: Daniel Shellabarger, Minister to Portugal; Geo. W. Lippitt, of Rhode Island, Secretary of Legation at Vienna.

Postmasters: Samuel T. Berbauer, Marion, O.; James L. Mingle, Easton, Pa.; Wm. F. Stair, Hanover, Pa.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate, to-day, confirmed the following nominations:

To be Consuls—Dexter E. Clapp, of New York, at Buenos Ayres; T. Trowbridge, of Illinois, at Vera Cruz; G. T. Allen, at Moscow; G. Henry Hartmann, of Pennsylvania, at Munich; Edward Robinson, of New York, at Hamburg; A. D. Shaw, of New York, at Toronto; Chas. A. Perkins, of Connecticut, at Barcelona; J. Holmes Grover, of South Carolina, at Ancona; B. O'Dell Duncan, of South Carolina, at Elsinore; Jas. C. Fletcher, of Indiana, at Port Sarnia; Sam. D. Jones, of California, at Revel; Jno. S. Caldwell, of Maine, at Valparaiso; Henry C. Rogers, of Minnesota, at Hesse Cassel; Alex. Jordan, of Pennsylvania, at Venice; Eli T. Sheppard, of Ohio, at Chin Siang.

Sixth Auditor of the Treasury—J. J. Martin, of Alabama.

Cyrus M. Hawley, of Illinois, Associate Justice of Utah; W. W. Brookings, Associate Justice of Dakota; Louis A. Johnson, United States Marshal for South Carolina; S. B. Packard, United States Marshal for Louisiana; H. C. Thatcher, United States Attorney for Colorado; Jos. M. Huston, United States Attorney for Idaho.

NOMINATION REJECTED.

DELEGATION OF QUAKERS.

This afternoon a delegation of Quakers from various parts of the country, headed by Samuel M. Janney, of Virginia, waited upon the President by invitation, and had a half-hour's interview upon the subject of moral reformation at the South. It is proposed by them to appoint a Superintendent whose duty it shall be to visit sections in all Southern States, and endeavor to work some improvement in the condition of the people. The President received them cordially and the interview was a very pleasant one.

CABINET MEETING.

A special Cabinet meeting, held to-day to consider important matters, lasted most of the day. All of the members were present, except Secretary Borie, who is absent from the city.

The Cabinet meeting to-day had reference more especially to appointments.

PEW-PAYING INTEREST.

A little less than half a million coupons have been received at the Treasury to date, on account of May and July interest, under late orders of Secretary Boutwell. The rebate amounts to about $1,700. It is expected a large amount of this interest will be paid prior to the maturity of the coupons.

READY FOR SEA.

The U. S. steamer Galena, at Portsmouth Navy Yard, is reported ready for sea and will probably leave that place to-morrow for Hampton Roads, where she will receive orders from the Navy Department. The Saratoga, apprentice ship, will soon leave for a cruise in Cuban waters.

MISSISSIPPI ELECTION.

Radical and moderate Republicans now here are agreed that the election in Mississippi must not take place until fall, as an earlier period would materially interfere with the planting operations.

CLERKS TO BE REMOVED.

It is understood a large number of clerks in the general postoffice will shortly be removed, to provide for new appointments.

ST. LOUIS.

Conviction for Violation of Revenue Law—Extraordinary Hail Storm—Copious Rain—Damage to Vegetation—Grain Association.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—Geo. B. Pague was to-day found guilty, in the United States District Court, of a violation of the revenue law, in making false returns of manufactured tobacco. The jury found him guilty on all the counts in the indictment, fourteen in number. The extent of the penalty is one thousand dollars fine or one year's imprisonment on each count. There is also a civil judgment against Pague for $5,300.

The extremely sultry weather of yesterday and this morning culminated this afternoon in the most terrific hail storm that has visited this region for many years. The hail-stones fell in most unprecedented numbers and force and varied in size from that of a marble to that of an English walnut. Thousands upon thousands of windows were broken, scarcely a building in the city with a western exposure escaping injury. Hundreds of horses ran away, and a regular stampede occurred on the levee, but no very serious results are yet reported. The damage to vegetation in the country must have been very severe. The storm was followed by a heavy fall of rain. A very severe thunder storm occurred last night, and rain fell very copiously nearly all the forenoon of to-day. These storms have extended generally throughout the west, but as telegraphic communication is cut off, the amount of damage, if any, cannot be ascertained.

The Board of Directors of the St. Louis Grain Association elected the following officers: President, Hon. E. A. Stanard; Vice President, Chauncey T. Filley; Temporary Secretary, George H. Morgan; Executive Committee, H. A. Homeyer, George P. Plant, John Wahl. A call of fifty per cent. on the capita. stock was made payable on the 25th inst.

BOSTON.

Initiation of the Reform League.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, April 19.—A meeting will be held to-morrow evening to initiate the Reform League, having in view, first, to secure a moderate and effective tariff, which may be collected at the least cost and interference with the industrial pursuits of the country; second, to oppose all special legislation intended to foster private or class interest; third, to secure semi-annual payment of principal of the National debt, and removal of some of the more onerous taxes; fourth, to promote treaties of reciprocity with all North American States; fifth, to promote reform in the civil service, and appointment of government officers on the sole ground of fitness and ability; and sixth, to secure the return of the specie standard of values as soon as possible.

Assassination in Alabama.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 17.—The Chronicle contains the particulars of the murder of Dr. Benjamin Ayres, a Republican member of the Legislature, who was killed near Louisville. The Chronicle states Ayres was murdered and robbed by a negro named Wilson, now in jail. Ayers' pocket book and money were found in Wilson's possession.

—The inquest at Binghamton, N. Y., in the case of Warren Blanchard, murdered a week ago, closed yesterday. The jury found that Blanchard died from the effects of two pistol shots. James Dewitt and Mrs. Blanchard, wife of the deceased, are held as principal and accessory. Mrs. Blanchard is not yet seventeen years of age, and was brought from Pennsylvania a few months ago by Dewitt, who pretended to marry her, but really had her married to Blanchard, who kept a brothel. Blanchard was nearly fifty years old, and it is supposed he had considerable money. The testimony indicates this was the leading motive of the crime.

Club House for Women—Firm Suspension—Grand Army of the Republic.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, April 13.—The new club house for women, on East Twenty-third street, will be opened on the 12th of May, and will be occupied by the "Sorosis," Workingmen's Association, artists' studios, the Revolution office, and as sleeping apartments for women visiting the city who may not desire to go alone to a hotel.

The Express says the suspension of Frank Patterson & Co., packers and provision merchants, was announced to-day.

Gen. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, has issued a recommendation for strewing with flowers the graves of departed comrades on the 29th or 30th of May.

Hon. E. B. Washburne, Minister to France, is in the city.

—Wm. H. Stratford, a Canadian, was before United States Commissioner Goram, at Buffalo, yesterday, charged with smuggling a large quantity of morphine. He waived an examination and gave bail to appear at the next term of the United States Court at Rochester. Collector Tyler has possession of the most of the morphine.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Western University—One Year's Progress.

President George Woods, L. L. D., of the Western University, presented yesterday afternoon, to the Trustees of that institution, his annual report. After a brief but suggestive discussion of a policy in the course of instruction, adapted to the variety of the aims and circumstances of the students, Dr. Woods announces the consummation of the so long desired object, the procurance of a capable army officer to attend to the department of Military Science and Civil and Mechanical Engineering. The fullest satisfaction is expressed in the gentleman thus detailed and for some months actually on duty—Col. W. J. L. Nicodemus. Acknowledgments are made of the friendly influence, at home and in Washington, which secured this assignment, when it seemed absolutely hopeless. One gentleman has made himself responsible for twelve hundred dollars for the half pay of the professor, and has given three hundred more. The contribution of ninety-eight bound volumes of Congressional documents to the library, is due to the exertions of our late Representative J. K. Moorhead.

The report proceeds: "Since the transfer of the Observatory to the Trustees of the Western University, nearly $7,000 have been expended in repairing the building and in purchasing new instruments. These instruments were all made to order by the best manufacturers, and are of the best kind. The original founders have occasion for pride at the result of their labors. From the accompanying statement of moneys collected, it will be seen that more than $39,000, or more than one-half of all that has been contributed to the University, has been expended on the Observatory. Years, too, of labor have been expended in accomplishing this.

"I herewith furnish a detailed account of all subscriptions and donations to the University within the past eight years. It does not include books, cabinet specimens, or donations to Society libraries. The whole amount will be seen to be $74,108.23.

"In concluding this report I cannot refrain from congratulating the Board on the continued prosperity of the University. Its regular and constant growth in all its departments, its resources, its courses of study, the number and character of its students, the increase, its faculty, the diminution of old prejudices and the increasing favor with which it is regarded. So quietly has this progress been made that comparatively few of our citizens really know the privileges here offered. Even some of those who especially should know the condition and value of the University do not. We are sometimes pained to hear those who should be familiar with its merits compare it unfavorably with some distant school in no respect its equal. Were it in some remote village its praises would be loudly sounded, and its patronage shared by these very persons now silent or heard only in opposition, and this, too, to an institution generous men are seeking to build up for the good and honor of our cities. But here, where it is falsely assumed that nothing but iron, coal and smoke can be seen, where are manufacturing establishments, costing hundreds of thousands, and where large fortunes are rapidly made, an educational institution which does not "coin money," whose assets are only $200,000, is almost unnoticed. Men choose the hazard of paying $1,000 a year, or recommending others to do so, to a distant and ordinary school, instead of $100 to a home institution. Yet the work of endowing and in every way building up a large and useful university goes steadily on. It is moulding the minds which are to direct the industries and destinies of these growing cities. No doubt can now exist of its ultimate complete success. Furnishing every advantage for the thorough training in the professions, literature, science and art to the high and low, at a rate which will exclude none."

Set the Students at Work.

MESSRS. EDITORS: I notice in a city journal a communication appealing for employment in what we generally call Missionary work, for the many students who are just now completing their year's studies in the Theological Seminaries in Allegheny. Allow me through your columns to second that appeal. Some of these men, I happen to know, can tell touching stories of struggles between worldly interest, on one hand, and stern conscientious convictions on the other. They have entered the lists against poverty and the cold neglect of the world with a heroism all the grander, that it looks for no trumpeting. They do not receive at the hands of the church, nor even of her ministry, the encouragement and sympathy to which they are entitled. And aside from the question of justice to them, is there not a value, in no sense adequately realized, in having at our command for Christian work, for so long a term, a body of educated and devotedly earnest young men such as, in only a year or two, the churches will be competing for and urging upon them her most responsible posts? What sort of a hocus pocus is going to so multiply their value to the church in so short a time? If our intelligent citizens, who hold their wealth consecrated to holy uses, feel that there is a call for a fraction of it, they must act promptly, for these students will soon be dispersed.

C.

HERE are a few of the Spring edicts of fashion: Everything which hangs softly and gracefully, such as merinos, muslin-de-laine, etc., is very fashionable, and is being employed most freely in the composition for costume for the ensuing season. The dress consists, in all instances, of two skirts, of distinctly different materials,—the under one generally of striped satin or velvet, the upper one of cloth or merino. With these we have a small fitting jacket of either velvet or cloth, with collar and revers of quilted satin. In most cases the dresses are arranged en bouffant about the waist, and the panier, disposed in many graceful ways, still holds its own, as an accessory to the promenade toilette. For visiting and home dress trains continue to be in fashion.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE DOOR-STEP.

The conference meeting through at last,
We boys a round the vestry waited,
To see the girls come tripping past,
Like snow birds willing to be mated.

Not braver he that leaps a wall,
By level musket-flashes lifted,
Than I who stepped before them all,
Who longed to see me get the mitten.

But, no—she blushed and took my arm!
We let the old folks have the highway,
And started toward the Maple Farm
Along a kind of lovers' by-way.

I can't remember what we said,
'Twas nothing worth a song or story,
Yet that rude path by which we sped
Seemed all transformed and in a glory.

The snow was crisp beneath our feet,
The moon was full, the fields were gleaming,
By hood and tippet sheltered sweet,
Her face with youth and health was beaming.

The little hand outside her muff—
O, sculptor, if you could but mould it!
So lightly touched my jacket cuff,
To keep it warm I had to hold it!

To have her with me—there alone—
'Twas love, and fear, and triumph blended,
At last we reached the foot-worn stone,
Where the delicious journey ended.

The old folks, too, were almost home:
Her dimpled hand, the latches fingered:
We heard the voices nearer come,
Yet on the door-step still we lingered.

She shook her ringlets from her hood,
And with a "Thank you, Ned," dissembled,
But yet I knew she understood
With what a daring wish I trembled.

A cloud passed kindly overhead,
The moon was slyly peeping through it,
Yet hid its face as if it said,
"Come, now or never! do it! do it!"

My lips till then had only known
The kiss of mother and of sister,
But somehow, full upon her own
Sweet, rosy, darling mouth—I kissed her.

Perhaps 'twas boyish love, yet still,
O, list ess woman, weary lover,
To feel once more that fresh, wild thrill,
I'd give—but who can live youth over?

THE new hotel at the Gettysburg Katalysine springs is almost completed, and will probably be ready for occupation in time for the summer season.

THE new Lehigh county gaol is finished. It has forty cells and a comfortable dwelling house for the Sheriff, and is said to be quite a model prison.

THE ladies of the M. E. Church in Wellsboro recently gave a maple-sugar party, where warm fresh maple-sugar was served to all customers, and a neat sum was cleared for the church.

FIRES on the mountains are already burning before the snow and ice are all gone from the ravines. Props for mines and sills for railroads will be scarcer and more costly for this vandalism which burns our young timber annually.—Wilkesburre Record.

A YOUNG man named Isaac Ruggle, employed at Coplay in digging a cut for the construction of a switch for the use of the Carbon Iron Company, to a limestone quarry in the vicinity, was accidentally killed on Thursday last, by the falling in of a bank of earth.—Easton Free Press.

THE Lawrence Journal says: On Tuesday last, John Russell, a teamster, was coming down the declivity at the east end of the Shenango bridge in this city, with a heavy load on his wagon, himself standing on the brake, when he was thrown off, one of the wheels passing over his body. He was badly crushed, and his recovery is considered doubtful.

ON Tuesday afternoon a child of Rev. J. A Dixon, of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Hanover, aged about eighteen months, was drowned in a pail of water standing on the floor. Mrs. D. had occasion to leave the room a few moments, and on returning found the child almost lifeless, with its head in the pail. Every exertion was made to restore life, but all in vain.—Gettysburg Star.

THE Chester Republican says a little girl named Imogene Walters, aged seven years, residing in Middle Ward, is missing from her home. A blind colored woman called at the house of the parents of Imogene on Friday morning, a week ago, and asked permission of her mother to take her to the house of a near neighbor. Since then neither the woman nor the child has been heard from.

FROM the Venango Citizen we clip the following petroleum items: Operations are being carried on more widely than at any previous time. New wells are being dug, old ones cleaned out and torpedoed, and tested anew, and all the valuable experience of past developments offered to render operations more successful. Intelligent oil men predict the investment of a greater amount of capital in the business the coming summer, than there has been heretofore.

A YOUNG blood living not half a dozen of miles away from here, was the victim of a huge joke last Sunday night. He was trying to be particularly "sweet" on a young lady, and had paid her several visits. The old folks thought the children were too little to keep company, and conveyed the hint by calling the girl out of the room and sending her to bed, the lady of the house astonishing the young gent by bringing into the parlor a huge piece of bread and butter and sugar, saying in her kindest manner, "There, Bub, take this and run home to your mother; it is time little boys were in bed."—Beaver Radical.

FROM the Lancaster Inquirer we clip the following account of a serious riot at Marietta:

A serious riot occurred at the "Upper Station" on Wednesday evening, between a number of Irishmen, rowdies, and rivermen, which originated in a dispute about a trifling sum of money. A Baptpreacher, in his efforts to make peace, unwittingly brought down the entire assault on his own head. He, in self-defence seized an axe and struck down several of his assailants and made his way for the train, hotly pursued. He was intercepted by an "Irishtown bully," Dock Leed, when a deadly struggle ensued, but like in the contest between Pilgrim and the Dragon, the preacher came off victorious, by chopping into the head of his assailant with the axe, and crawling under the cars, succeeded in getting in on the other side. When the rowdies found he was on the cars, they threw stones promiscuously into the windows, causing the passengers to get down upon the floor of the car for safety, although several were struck with stones, and nothing could have saved the life of the preacher except the starting of the train. The preacher is said to be a man of peaceful and inoffensive habits, and was only desirous of receiving the blessing of the peace-makers. The riot continued for some time longer, and although there were no murders, some of the cuts and stabs were of a very serious nature.

THE New Lisbon and Ashtabula Railroad was sold on the 17th for $13,000. The purchasers were Jay Gould, James Fisk, Jr., C. M. and W. C. Andrews, and L. D. Rucker—all of the Erie and Atlantic roads.

AFFECTIONATE SON.—The Cadiz Republican says: Mr. John Anderson, of East Liverpool, Columbiana county, has recently learned that his son William, who for six or eight years past was supposed to be dead, is living in Pittsburgh, in excellent health, and quite oblivious of the fact that he has long been mourned as dead by his nearest friends.

ON Tuesday of last week, as Mr. Cal. Chamberlain, residing in the neighborhood of East Palestine, Columbiana county, Ohio, was boiling maple syrup, he was seized with a fit and fell against the kettle, spilling the boiling contents over his back and left arm, scalding them in a most terrible manner. He laid with his head in the fire until it was burnt to a crisp, extending to his right eye and down the left side of the face to the chest.

THE Canton Repository says: "Large shipments of building stone are being made from the quarries of Waterhouse & Company to Pittsburgh, to be used in the construction of a new building to be erected the present season for banking purposes, some of the blocks, as they come from their ancient beds, seem better fitted for the massive works of olden time than the lighter construction of modern days, several that we noticed being some four feet square by eighteen feet in length."

A DAY OF HORROR.—Wednesday was a day of the most startling excitement and sensation ever known in this city. The violent death of Mr. Soule, the suicide of Mr. Wolf, the death of Mr. Kissinger, the report that a young lady had committed suicide at Enon, and the rumor that a young man living a short distance from the city had blown out his brains with a shot gun, together with one that Wm. McKinney, formerly of this city, had hung himself in Cincinnati, were all the subjects of remark and speculation. No wonder people became excited. Such a day of horrible events is seldon realized anywhere—even in Chicago—much less in quite steady Dayton,—Dayton Index.

THE Greenbrier Independent, of the 27th ult., has the following item: A little boy, aged four years, near Livesay's Mill, in this county, met with a horrible death on Sunday evening last. It seems that the unfortunate little fellow was stirring a kettle of boiling sugar water, when he lost his balance and fell into the kettle, and was literally cooked alive.

THE Morgantown Post of the 10th instant says: The large flouring mill over Cheat, which was destroyed by fire on Monday night week, was certainly the work of an incendiary. The property was very valuable—worth from twenty to twenty-five thousand dollars, and there was several hundred dollars worth of grain destroyed besides. It was owned by Messrs. Chess, Smyth & Co., of Pittsburgh, and, we learn, was only partly insured.

THE Weston Democrat says: On Big Skin Creek, about eight miles from Weston, three children of Gideon Spaur were crossing the foot-log over the creek, lost their balance and fell into the water. The oldest child, a boy, saved himself, and the next, a little girl, floated down the stream some distance, and by the aid of some overhanging bushes she managed to keep up until help arrived. The youngest child, a very small boy, sank almost immediately, and when the body was recovered life was extinct.

THE Morgantown Post says: "As the Messrs. Griffiths were engaged in making a road near the top of a ridge on the 'Big Survey,' five miles from this place, on Monday last, in digging by the side of a large rock—which had to be avoided, being too large to move—they found a very nicely made stone wall, well cemented together, and put up in the best style. Curiosity led the hands to reconnoitre, and they found that the wall was formed in a square of about twelve feet, with this large rock, which is estimated to weigh two hundred tons, resting on the top. What is inside the wall, who built it, what it was built for, and how the rock was placed on top of it, is yet to be found out. Near the scene of the above they have found several caves in the hill that surpass anything of the kind yet known for beauty."

ANNAPOLIS.

The Midshipmen's Ball.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

U. S. Naval Academy,
ANNAPOLIS, April 11th 1869.

The ball given here by the Midshipmen of the second class, last evening, was a great success. The attendance was scarcely as large as had been expected, but in the course of the evening it was satisfactorily determined that a large number of visitors would have been productive of less pleasure, and of more inconvenience to all present; as it was, however, there was just enough room to render all comfortably at their ease.

The earlier and late trains from both Washington and Baltimore were filled with brilliant parties of invited guests, representing the highest military, naval, civil, diplomatic, and fashionable circles. At a little after ten the guests began to enter the ball-room, and at about 10.30, the overture by the band opened the ball. Upon first entering the room a scene most beautiful and brilliant was presented to the view, and it was fully appreciated, if we could judge by the many expressions of delight and admiration which were uttered by those present. The room was very elegantly decorated, the walls being covered with flags, evergreens &c, and with quantities of arms of various kinds, from the bright polished surface of which the light was reflected in every direction. The sides of the room bore many and appropriate devices and mottoes, while around the sides next the walls were groups of arms, oars, foils and stacks of muskets, tastefully decorated with flowers, wreaths, &c. From all the pillars hung beautiful arches of evergreen, interspersed with flowers, and the pillars themselves were concealed from view by a number of flags gracefully twined around them.

The grand stand for the band was almost hidden from view by flags, flowers, &c., but the bandsmen soon made the guests aware of their presence by the strains of soft and entrancing music which filled the air. This Band, belonging to the Academy, has few superiors.

The light was furnished by an immense chandelier, containing over a thousand jets, suspended directly over the centre of the ball room.

But the most conspicuous object, and, at the same time, the most productive of comfort, was a large and elegant fountain, erected for the occasion, representing Neptune, (who is supposed to be the guardian of all sailors, and Midshipmen in particular,) who was accompanied by his usual attending dragons, sea serpents, water spirits, &c., and which spouted out many little jets of water from whose drops the light was reflected in brilliant scintillations and the air filled with a grateful coolness and freshness. This was placed directly in the centre of the room, in a large artificial lake, whose waters were disturbed by the movements of countless little gold and other fish, who by their unceasing and sportive movements seemed fully aware of the festive character of the occasion and determined to take part in it.

From every prominent point of the fountain, to the mossy banks surrounding it, hung graceful arches of flowers and evergreens.

The decorations of the ladies' dressing rooms were of a corresponding nature and elegance to those of the ball-room itself. Inscriptions such as "Trop belle pour ce monde, quoique vous y'etes encore," ("Too beautiful for this world although you still remain here.") and others, were tastefully arranged upon the walls with striking effect.

The opening dance of the ball was a galop, which was followed by others in quick succession with slight intervals between, until about 2 a. m., when a Grand March by the band recalled to the memory of the dancers that something else besides dancing constituted a ball. The supper was not only elegant but substantial, presenting every delicacy in the greatest variety and profusion.

After supper was over the dancing was again resumed and the "German" commenced, the opening dance being a Galop composed by Miss S—— S——, of Detroit, expressly for the occasion.

The beautiful dresses of the ladies, the brilliant uniforms of the officers and midshipmen attached to the Academy, who all appeared in full dress uniform, together with the tasteful decorations of the ball-room, combined to form a spectacle at once brilliant, imposing and not soon to be forgotten,

The German continued until six A. M., when the gray streaks of dawn had already forced their way in the room, and the morning "gun fire" announced that the ball was over. Then ended the first ball of the class of "'70," and it is said to have been the most successful fete of any ever given at this Academy. L.

A New Phase of the "Collecting" Mania

EPES SARGENT writes to the Boston Transcript:

"I lately visited where, for my entertainment, an album was shown, used for a purpose new to me. It was of sky-blue paper, and on each alternate page were profiles cut from white paper, beautifully and neatly contrasted with the color of the leaf. I learned that it required no uncommon talent to make these so that they bore strong resemblence to the faces for which they were cut. I recognized Washington, Grant, Lincoln, Edwin Booth and others, and also many acquaintances. The profiles of celebrities were copied from familiar pictures; those of friends were of original designs by the ingenious artist. A gentleman was cut cross-legged as it is his wont to sit, another was cut leaning upon his arm—this was a very graceful attitude—though most of the collection was of merely the head and bust, though if a noted character could well be introduced, it added to the naturalness of the work. I was much surprised that a collection so pretty could be made without great natural genius; but when I tried it myself my pride was much elated at my success; still further, I persuaded friends to try it, and theirs was the same pleasing result; now, I recommend it to all who love nice work as a charming, and profitable diversion.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

CATTLE—Notwithstanding there was a fair supply of Cattle to day, fully seven hundred, the market was a stiff one, the demand being fully up to the supply, and prices were strong and fully sustained. In addition to the retail demand, there was some inquiry for shipment, and, as was the case last week, the pens were pretty well cleared out by ten o'clock. The quality of the Cattle on sale, was up to the usual standard, perhaps a little better than usual, and they were nearly all from Chicago, and were, nearly all in the hands of the regular dealers.

Prices, compared with last week, have undergone no quotable change. Prime to extra smooth fat steers sold at from 8@8¾, and medium do, at 7½@7¾. Stock steers may be quoted at 5½@6½.

There is an improved demand for fresh cows, and quotations may be fairly given at $50@100 per head, according to quality and condition.

One of the finest bullocks in this market for many a day, was sold by S. Marks & Bro. to Chas. Welde. Hazlewood & Blackstock, also, had some very fine cattle.

L. & J. Shamberg 52 head steers, all from Chicago, at 7@8¼.

I. Keefer 20 head from Chicago, at 6¾@7¼.

Haas & Kraus 50 from Chicago, at 7@8½.

J. Needy 33 from Chicago, at 7@8½; 16 head for Joseph Myers, at 6¾@7¼.

Hartman & Zeigler 58 head, sold 18 head to Runyon, at 8; balance, at 62½@8.

M. Verner 34 head Chicago steers, at 7@8¼.

SHEEP—There was an unusually large supply of Sheep on sale to-day, the largest we have had to record for several weeks—927 head—and with only a moderate demand. The market was very slow, and compared with last week prices are lower. Many of the butchers have been engaging their sheep in the adjoining country, and as a consequence they did not want many to-day, though it is probable that they could have bought all they wanted here at a less price, if they had only known it. We look for a larger supply from this time out, as farmers will commence throwing them on the market as soon as they get the wool off.

J. Needy reports retailing 200 head clipped at 5@7.

Moulton & Neely, 30 head wooled, at 6.

J. F. Neely, 80 clipped, at 5@6½.

J. Davis sold 67 head clipped for Jones at 5¾@6½.

Adam Eckert 200 head clipped at 5@7.

J. Kauffman 75 at 4@6,35.

Aull & Myers 222 head, clipped at 3½@4, and wooled at 6½@8. James Kerr 10 head.

HOGS—The Hog market was a little slow to-day, the warm weather preventing the butchers from buying as freely as usual. We now quote in a retail way at 11@12½ gross, as to quality.

Jacob Needy wholesaled 51 at 10¾.

Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, April 10.—Receipts for the week—6,147 beeves, 6,124 sheep and lambs, 15,771 hogs. In beeves the receipts up to Saturday were: at Communipaw, 859; West End, 140; and at National Yards, 2,772. The week opened with a large supply, and at prices considerably below the figures of last Monday, which, however, on Wednesday advanced again a trifle, only to recede again to the opening rates. The best western steers sold at 16¼@17c, but there were few cattle good enough to reach these figures. To-day the offerings were 125 car loads at Communipaw, and 70 car loads at the National Yards. The anticipation of a light run during the week caused a little more buoyancy on the part of buyers, which, the holders turning to their own advantage, put up prices and the market was stronger. The quality at all the yards averaged below the usual grade, there being too many poor cattle. In prices Washington market cattle ruled from 14½@15½c, and a few choice sold as high as 16½@17c; poor to medium cattle 12¾ @14c; medium to fair steers 14@15c; good steers and fat oxen 15@16c; prime to extra steers 16@16¾c; choice 16½@17c; the majority of the sales being at 14½@15½c, average price 14¾c, poorest cattle brought 11@11¾c. Sheep and Lambs: In the earlier part of the week the arrivals were: Communipaw 5,450 head, Bergen Hill ——, 8,400 head at Fortieth street; the market at opening ruled very slow for all grades below prime, which sold at 5½@6¼c for sheared, 7@9¼c for wooled; a few very extra sheep exceeded these figures. Lambs were in request for good, but light stock weighing below 40 pounds were altogether unsaleable. To-day the offerings were: 2,500 head at Communipaw, 2,000 head at Hudson City, 3,000 head at Fortieth street Yards. There was, on the whole, very little change from the figures current through the week, and the market heavy. Common to fair Sheep at 7½@8, extra at 8@8¾, prime at 8½@9¼, sheared sheep at 5¼@8¼. Lambs 15@20; we note sales during the week of 16,598 head. Swine; sales of 2,000 head at the Fortieth Street Yards and 2,000 at Communipaw; the market ruled quite firm during the past week; sales of live Hogs as high as 11@11,68, while dressed Hogs sold at 14½@14½. To-day's offerings were 3,000 at Fortieth street and 4,500 at Communipaw; market heavy and lower; closing 10¾@11½ for live, and 14@14¼ for dressed.

PHILADELPHIA, April 19—Cattle Market.—Beef cattle are dull and lower, with sales of 17,000 head at 9½@10 for extra western steers; 7@8 for fair to good; 5@6 for common. Sheep are in demand at full prices, with sales of good at 7,50. Hogs are in fair demand, but lower, with sales of 4,000 at 14@15¾ per cent. nett.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Cattle Market—Hogs quiet at $9@10,25 for fair to choice Beef Cattle moderately active at $4,50@4,75 for cows and butchers' steers, $7,25@7,75 for good to choice, $8@8,37½ for extra to extra choice.

ST. LOUIS, April 19.—Cattle Market.—Cattle dull, with small business to butchers only. Prices range from 2¾c to 7¼c per gross for inferior to extra. Hogs steady at 8@10c for fair to choice.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The weather is very fine and a better inquiry is noticeable for woolen goods of light make at panicky prices, ranging from 75c up to $1,10 for medium and fine fancy Cassimeres and Coatings. Cotton goods steady and prices generally rule so law in fact that buyers are timid purchasers. We quote standard Brown Sheetings at 16@17c for best Southern and Eastern makes, 7¾@7½c for Printing Cloths, 11¾@12½c for Amoskeag and other standard brands of prints, such as Sprague and Merrimack D, 15½@17½c for Sprague and other poor styles of Mous Delaines, and 20c for best new styles, 27½c for New York Mills Muslins, 22½c for Wamsutta do, 20c for Tuscarora do, 15c for Gold Medal do, 14c for Hope do, and 12½c for Redbank do.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather yesterday was excessively warm for the season, the mercury at 4 P. M. being up to 78. River rising slowly last evening, with eight feet three inches here by Monongahela marks, and six feet reported in the Allegheny at Oil City,

Business is fair, taking everything in consideration, though there is plenty of room for improvement. There is not so much complaint about getting freight as there is in regard to the very low prices, and while this is not very pleasant for boatmen, it is very agreeable to shippers.

Capt. Ben Kouns and T. J. Beall, two prominent steamboatmen, died at New Orleans on Friday last.

The Lorena, St. Louis to Pittsburgh, passed Louisville on Saturday.

The high-headed Glendale, Capt. John M. Hare, with the veteran Capt. James Mellon in the office, is announced for St. Louis and St. Paul forthwith. She is in all respects one of the best boats in the trade.

The R. C. Gray, Capt. Whittaker, will commence loading for Cincinnati and Louisville forthwith.

The Mary Davage and barges, Capt. J. Shedden, are announced for St. Louis and all intermediate points, forthwith.

Capt. Hare joined the Glendale at Wheeling, having come through from St. Louis to that point by rail. He was detained in St. Louis several days after the departure of the boat.

The Glendale and Bellevernon from St. Louis, New York from Nashville and St. Marys and R. C. Gray from Cincinnati, have arrived since the date of our last report.

The St. Marys made a remarkably quick trip, having left Cincinnati on Friday night at 12 o'clock. She made the run to Wheeling in 48 hours. This fine steamer will return to Cincinnati today at noon and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. Capt. T. C. Sweeny is in command and Morris Dorsey in the office.

Gosney and Hall were pilots on the New York, Shouse and Nick Whitten on the Grey and Crane and Morrison on the Glendale.

The Anatralia, Capt. Dan Moore, will be the first boat out for New Orleans.

—The Sallie and Mollie Ebert are loading at St. Louis for Benton.

—The Bermuda was resold on Monday, at Memphis by the United States Marshal, and brought $5,575.

—The Argosy, in charge of Capt. Lew Vanderfrift, was loading at St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Saturday last.

—On the 3d, James Brannon, a deckhand on the tow-boat Alps, fell overboard, below Baton Rouge, and was drowned.

—The Sioux city Register says: the Nile, which was frozen in some distance below the Stockdale, resumed her trip to the mountains with the freight she had on when she was caught by the ice last fall.

—Capt. Ansy Phillips, of the Keokuk packet company, left St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Friday, charged with the duty of purchasing a small side-wheel boat to be placed in the trade with the Louisiana and Hannibal.

—It is said Dan Dinsmore, pilot of the G. A Thomson, stood at the wheel until the hair was singed from his person, and then, with pistol in hand, went to the lower deck, where he kept the crowd at bay until the lady passengers were safely removed from the burning wreck, after which he swam ashore.

—A dispatch from Little Rock, dated the 14th, says: "The Thomson disaster is still the principal talk. One of the pilots exonerates Capt. Frazier from all blame, and says it was at his earnest solicitation, that he left the boat with the women and children. He further states that the boat was in the channel, and says it was a mistake that any pilot would be likely to make; that there was nobody but the pilot in the pilot-house at the time of the occurrence.

—ST. LOUIS, April 16.—A verdict for $7,471 has been obtained against the Eureka Insurance Co., of Pittsburgh. The suit was brought by John A. Harbach, who received the insurance of the steamer Anda, destroyed by fire recently, above St. Paul. The Co. denied all knowledge of the plaintiff's ownership, and insisted she was not competently provided with officers and crew; also, that the stove pipe on deck was in perilous contact with the wood-work. The Memphis Packet Co. to-day purchased the wharf-boat of the Atlantic and Mississippi Steamship Co. The former are reported to be making arrangements for the extension of their business to New Orleans. There was an insurance of the cargo of the Antelope to the amount of $71,820, of which $5,000 was in the Enterprise, of Cincinnati.

THE Chicago Presbytery, O. S., has adopted a resolution favorable to the union with the New School branch, on what appear to be just and liberal conditions.

WE are requested to announce that the name of HON. THOMAS HOWARD, as a candidate for election to the Senate of Pennsylvania, will be presented to the Republican Convention of Allegheny county.

THE Sonora revolutionists are in favor of the annexation of Mexico to the United States. Verily, it looks very much as if we are soon to have countries begging to share in the blessings of our well ordered free Government.

IN another column, will be found a correct reprint of the new law, of this Commonwealth, which legalizes the testimony of parties litigant in their own cases. This privilege was exercised in several of our tribunals yesterday.

Mr. MOTLEY will leave for England this week. His instructions are to hold that Government strictly accountable for all property destroyed by the pirate Alabama. Mr. JOHNSON will make a few more dinner speeches and then come home.

NEW ORLEANS seconds the enterprise of St. Louis by organizing a grain association with a capital of two hundred thousand dollars. The former city is sagacious enough to manifest enterprise when the whole glory and profit will result to herself.

AMONG the important bills enacted at the recent session of our Legislature, were the general registry law, the Act creating a State Board of Public Charities, the law making the parties to be competent witnesses in their own suits, a law requiring the proper ventilation of coal-mines, and the law imposing penalties for cruelty to animals.

THE New York Legislature received, on the 16th, the twelfth veto of their session, from Gov. HOFFMAN. The measures thus disapproved by the Executive have related almost entirely to the internal-improvement policy of the State, and it is but justice to add that these vetoes are generally sustained by the concurrent sentiment of the people.

THE distance from New-York to San Francisco, by Chicago and Omaha, and the Pacific Railways will be 3,305 miles. At the present rates, the through fare will be $153,91. But the Pacific Companies engage to reduce their rates in July, when the cost for the through trip is likely to be about $115, first class. It is also proposed to sell second and third class tickets at proportional reductions, say $75 and $50 each. While the poorest emigrants may thus be able to compass their transit, either to the mining districts or to the Pacific coast, other arrangements are, about to be made, and at a largely increased cost, for the luxurious accomodation of wealthy tourists.

ENLIGHTENED sentiment in the South, among citizens of all shades of political opinion, has come to regard Northern immigration as a powerful element in promoting the future material prosperity of that part of the Republic. Very naturally, it results that the current talk about West Indian annexation awakens very little Southern sympathy. It is clearly seen that Cuba and San Domingo, when added to our National possessions, would present greater inducements for Northern capital and enterprise, diverting these to a very serious extent from investment in our own Gulf States. The cotton and sugar interests of the South also regard the West Indian movement with a jealous eye. Political considerations are yet potent in all the late rebel States, reluctantly recognizing the danger of fresh accessions to the political strength of the colored race. The protest against any more black States will take an organized and effective shape among the Southern politicians of this class, and at an early day.

THE XVTH ARTICLE

MAINE,	ILLINOIS,
MASSACHUSETTS,	WISCONSIN,
NEW YORK,	MINNESOTA,
PENNSYLVANIA,	IOWA,
WEST VIRGINIA,	MISSOURI,
NORTH CAROLINA,	NEBRASKA,
SOUTH CAROLINA,	NEVADA,
ALABAMA,	ARKANSAS,
TENNESSEE,	LOUISIANA,
FLORIDA,	KANSAS—21.
MICHIGAN,

New Hampshire, Vermont and Connecticut will unite in the ratification during the year. Rhode Island has hesitated, not because she still clings to the exploded dogma which would restrict human liberty to one race alone, but because of certain vague apprehensions concerning the ultimate extinguishment of State sovereignties. Very recent events in the local politics of that State will, however, have the effect to ensure the prompt ratification of the Article, at the meeting of the Legislature in May.

With these twenty-five States, three more will be needed to make up the constitutional three-fourths number. Virginia, Mississippi and Texas will do this before next December, while, in January, Ohio and Indiana will be ready to be enrolled in favor of this last great step of progressive liberty.

DOMESTIC DIPLOMACY.

Dipatches were received yesterday, in this city, from Washington, stating, on the best authority, that the nomination of General A. L. RUSSELL, for the mission to Ecuador, was put down to the account of this county of Allegheny. If that were all of it, the joke would amuse our Republican friends. But it is not all; the corollary, accepted in high quarters, is that Allegheny, claiming properly but one diplomatic appointment, receives all she is entitled to, in this nomination of General RUSSELL,—and so our popular and capable friend, Judge P. C. SHANNON, for whom the entire Republican party of Western Pennsylvania desires the considerate regard of Executive favor—would, of necessity, be ruled off from the track.

We may say, frankly, that General RUSSELL, a sound Republican and most capable and excellent gentleman, is not, and has not for some nine years been, a citizen of Allegheny county at all. Whatever post he may be honored with, he will worthily fill, but no such nomination is to be charged to the local account of our own Republicans. Some one has been imposed upon in this matter, but we are quite sure that the mistake or the trick does not lie at Gen. RUSSELL'S door.

The slate of Allegheny has presented the name of but one candidate for a diplomatic post. Judge SHANNON would honor the mission to Lisbon, and we hope may get it. And so say all of us!

OUR LOCAL NOMINATIONS.

The Republican Executive Committee, of Allegheny county, meets to-day, to consider important business, for which a full attendance of the members is requested. We understand that a leading question before the Committee will relate to the time of holding the primary meetings, and of the assemblage of the Nominating Convention or Conventions.

In this connection, we may state that propositions are to be discussed, for the adoption of the principle which was inaugurated, by our Republican friends in Philadelphia, last year, with the most complete satisfaction to the entire body of the party. This proposes to substitute, for the single convention to which our friends in Allegheny have heretofore committed the selection of all the names to be placed on the ticket, a system of separate and distinct conventions, each with its separate set of delegates, and with its powers limited to the nomination for but one office, or for only one class of offices. The experiment which was so successful at Philadelphia, assembled no less than thirty-three distinct conventions, or nominating boards, on the same day, each with its own distinct membership, and each filling but one of the thirty-three places on the general ticket. The result commanded, for the first time in the local politics of that county, the unanimous approval of the party. Not one of the defeated aspirants, nor of his friends, was heard to complain of injustice or neglect. The usual, and often the too well justified, allegations of corrupt combinations and log-rolling intrigue, were altogether silenced. A ticket was secured which faithfully and confessedly reflected the preferences of a majority of the Republicen party, and it was supported at the ballot-boxes with a correspondingly unanimous and cordial zeal.

At that time, we observed the progress of the experiment in Philadelphia, with the closest attention, and did not hesitate to express our gratification at its success. It is with equal pleasure that we regard the movement, in our own Committee today, for the adoption of the same principle, in the selection of the Republican ticket of this county for the coming autumn.

While the principle may be faithfully recognized, it is probable that the system to be adopted may show a different application. Instead of a separate Convention for each office, it is proposed to group these offices, so as to commit all of a specified class to one body, with similar divisions of the rest. For example, a Judicial Convention will select both the candidates for Judges; another would nominate a Senator and Representatives; the eight County offices might be broken up into two, three or four classes and given to the charge of as many different Conventions. Or, the Committee may deem it expedient to recommend that the nominations, for the sixteen offices to be filled,—to-wit, District Judge, Common Pleas Judge, Senator, six Representatives, Sheriff, Clerk of Orphans' Court, Clerk of Quarter Sessions, Register, Director of the Poor, Recorder, Treasurer and Commissioner—shall be committed to sixteen different Conventions, each composed of one delegate from each of the one hundred and seven election districts of the county. Or, the Committee may send the two Judicial nominations to one body, the two Clerks to a second, the Senator to a third, the six Representatives to a fourth, the Sheriff to a fifth, the Director of the Poor and Register to a sixth, and the three other county officers to three more—in all nine Conventions, to one of which the choice of delegates to the State Convention may also be assigned.

The whole question will be carefully considered in the Committee to-day. We have confidence in their disinterested and wise devotion to the interests of the organization in Allegheny county. In adopting the Philadelphia precedent, it will not escape their perception that the nearer our own experiment shall approach to that model, the greater our assurance of the most successful results.

THE GROWTH OF PITTSBURGH.

A stranger, entering our city to-day, after an absence of ten years, would fail to recognize the Pittsburgh of that date in the great commercial metropolis into which it has expanded. The growth of the two sister cities, lying on either bank of the beautiful Allegheny river, has been marvellously rapid, and the ratio of increase promises to become even larger in the next decade of years. It is hardly an exaggeration to assert that within the time specified, our cities and boroughs have tripled in their importance and population, and, we believe, notwithstanding the known growth of contemporary municipalities, that the forthcoming census will award Pittsburgh much higher rank than she has hitherto occupied among the leading communities of the world. Previous to the passage of the consolidation act, whereby much territory was gained, the spirit of enterprise had set in and a steady accretion was observable; but the growth came rapidly after that movement, and up to the present time we have been assuming with each passing day still greater population and vaster proportions.

Real estate was estimated much lower in this neighborhood up till within a few years back, than in any other city of the Union of corresponding prosperity and numbers. The advance came like a flash and property suddenly rose from nominal values or song-like prices to figures so high and fancy as to almost put in the shade the selling valuations of any other city in the country. This rapid enhancement was not ephemeral, but came out of a true estimate of the new life taken by the city and anticipation of her growth and importance. Higher rents followed higher prices for real estate as a natural consequence, and while the sudden transition occasioned much grumbling and dissatisfaction, the people have accommodated themselves to the situation and are more prosperous than ever. The increase in population rendered necessary the erection of more business and dwelling places, and thousands of new houses have been erected and are now occupied. The hitherto retired portions of the city have been transformed into business centers and the dwellers therein forced out to new places for escape from the din and noise of the workshops and the sooty and begriming atmosphere of industry. Hence, it is, that there have sprung up all along the many lines of railway leading into the heart of the city, closely populated suburban villages to contribnte to the municipal greatness.

The present spring will witness more building enterprise than has marked any season since that following the great fire of 1845. On all sides, everywhere, the spirit of improvement is manifest, and scores of the new buildings arranged and contracted for, if not already under way, will largely contribute towards the architectural attractions of the city.

Councils, too, have roused themselves into full appreciation of the progressive era we have entered, and by wise and judicious legislation are contributing their full share towards securing for the city its fullest measure of growth and prosperity. Broad avenues are being opened and paved, new market houses provided, governmental advantages secured and other reforms and advancements mark the legislation of the representatives in that body, and so far as they are concerned the crime of fogyism cannot with justice be laid to their charge. Altogether, we have much to congratulate ourselves upon in the expansion and growth of these communities. Our prosperity is solid and enduring, while no city in the world has clearer claim to a substantial and hard-earned wealth, nor has any it distributed so equally among her citizens.

A CRITICAL experiment in social morality is under trial in Louisiana. Gaming-houses are not regularly licensed, but are controlled by law, which suffers their existence, but requires them to be open to the public. The New Orleans Republican, announcing the name and location of a new house just opened, remarks:

Thus far the experiment of open gambling-houses has not disappointed the public. The novelty of the experiment has induced hundreds to visit these gambling-houses, and some of them have had a lively fight with the tiger. Men of large means and men of small means have engaged in the fight. It has been stated that two distinguished Union Generals of the Democratic persuasion tried their skill in this new mode of warfare, and that one of them won several battles, while the other was vanquished, and left the scene without laurels or money.

KANSAS.

Advantages offered Farmers and Mechanics—The National Land Company.

DETROIT, Kansas, March 30, 1869.

[Correspondence of the the Pittsburgh Gazette]

I reached my favorite among Western towns, Kansas City, by the new west branch of the North Missouri Railroad. This route through the north side of the beautiful and fertile valley of Missouri, does credit to the foresight of its projectors, and is destined to become very popular.

From Kansas city the great Kansas Pacific Railroad, stretches more than four hundred miles westward; forming the grand trunk route of Kansas now, and probably (in view of the snow and other obstacles to the working of the Union Pacific Road) of the nation hereafter.

Our old friend Col. Lamborne, who honors the position of secretary of the road, tells me it will be pushed through to Denver this season; thus securing the best market in the world (that of the mining country) to the producers of Kansas,

After a somewhat extended trip over this road, I might indulge in very enthusiastic descriptions of the beautiful scenery, delightful climate, rich soil and mineral resources of Kansas.

But as I have selected a location, with the intention of coming here to settle this season, and I know that many of your readers are looking westward for future homes, I will simply give a business man's reasons for preferring Kansas to other western States, and this point in Kansas, (though I found it pretty hard to make a choice in this grand western country.)

I want to note for the especial benefit of young men, and those of small capital, why I think this is the best country for them.

I suppose all my farming friends will allow me to commence with the axiom that "farming pays best where good land is cheapest and farm products dearest," and when I state that good lands range in price from one to five dollars here, I may call my point marked.

Then, second—It is a fact that Kansas excels her sister States (except California,) in the productions of the staple grains, by quite a handsome excess.

For this statement you should not take a correspondent's word, but refer to the records (for the past few years,) at the National Bureau of Agriculture, at Washington, which show how much the average production of the cultivated acre was in each State.

Then, again—Grain and staple products are about fifty per cent. higher here than in Ohio and Pennsylvania; (for instance, corn sells at $1,30,) a fact easily accounted for by the proximity of the consuming, but non-producing frontier, droving and mining population and the Government posts.

It follows, then, that grain farming pays better here than farther east.

To illustrate, one can buy here with $3,000 dollars a farm that would cost $30,000 in Ohio or Pennsylvania, or say $15,000 in Missouri; and with much less labor than in the Eastern States grow crops worth more money, or, in other words, he can net a larger income with the small sum here than with the large one East, and use the surplus (if any) in other ways.

To say nothing of a third point—advance in the value of the land—which, while it rarely covers the interest of money invested in the older States, will here double value annually for five years to come. Lands settled as homesteads, for nothing, in Eastern Kansas, ten years ago, are now worth in many instances one hundred dollars per acre. It is here, then, that I find good land at the lowest, combined with markets at the highest rates, in a way I have nowhere else seen. For while Iowa and Minnesota must pay toll to the overcharged markets of Chicago and the East, this favored region finds a ready market waiting its products at its western doors.

But while this is as I have tried to show, the best country for grain farming, its pre-eminent superiority consists in its special adaptation to, and facilities for, stock farming. With pasturage of the richest, almost perpetual mild, short, open winters, and a cash market at its doors, I think this is destined to be one of the greatest stock growing sections of the West. Six miles west of Detroit, also on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, is Abilene, the great cattle buying and shipping point of Kansas, whose market is never glutted, having many resident buyers, representing millions of eastern capital.

Prices for stock are almost as high as east, though the cost to fatten is less than one-fourth as much.

I need scarcely say that Kansas offers as good inducements to mechanics and tradesmen as to farmers; and having noted some of her natural advantages, will call attention to some artificial ones.

The Kansas Pacific Railroad has adopted the very liberal policy of selling their lands (comprising alternate sections within twenty miles of their road) on five years credit, with only six per cent, interest on back payments, at prices ranging from one to five dollars.

They also aid the emigrant by reduction in rates of passage and freight.

The agency through which these Railroad lands are sold is that of the "National Land Company," of which many of your readers have heard. Their headquarters are at Topeka, where Dr. W. E. Webb, the affable and plucky general agent, resides They are doing more probably than all other agencies combined to advertise and develop Kansas. They have sub-agencies at all the railroad towns. I made the acquaintance of Capt. A. C. Pierce at Junction City, R. H. Bishop at Salina, and W. H. Lamb at this place, all affable gentlemen representing well the interests of the company at their respective points. The National Land Company are making arrangements to furnish to buyers of their lands agricultural implements, and portable houses, at manufacturers' prices.

Those wishing information can address any of the above named gentlemen; or, after April 15th, the writer at Detroit, where I will always be very glad to hear from my old friends.

S. J. MCFARREN.

A Deaf and Dumb Service.

In a deaf and dumb asylum the resident clergyman is a "speaking person," (as the deaf and dumb call nous autres;) but this makes no alteration whatever in the manner of the service. There is a dignity about him, an earnestness, a solemnity that comes straight from his own poor imprisoned soul. He has to act everything, as it were, (since the system he uses is a mixture of the spelling with our old child-learnt dumb alphabet, and the representation of words, and even phrases, by expressive signs), and he is so moved by the poetry of the thoughts he is communicating that his head and arms and whole body are idealized by it, and he is a picture in every attitude he assumes. No Oriental could give a painter or a sculptor more delight. He is elevating his hands now to heaven in a close appeal; and now he has no hope left of mercy, and stands there abased. He is resignation, alarm, hope, and tender love; he is gratitude, humiliation, anger, rapture; he turns from adoration to hate, from joy to despair; he supplicates, he mourns, he worships, he disdains, and all with the swiftness and beauty of a man with a fairy gift. All the congregation are standing with him for a prayer (they cannot kneel, nor yet bow their heads, nor do anything that interferes with the freedom of their eyes,) and his fingers are making incessant movements—rapidly, magically, madly—and are adding to his expression considerably more. His arms are out, in, up, down; forward, behind, to the left, to the right; his thumbs are together, apart, making emphasis, upraised; his palms slide rapidly by one another, his little fingers hook; he points, he touches, he makes rings and fists; his fingers go over, under, through, on; and they twirl, and twist, and clasp, and throw one another away, without a moment's pause. Then his whole pose again is trust; and then he triumphs, and then he complains, and then ecta*sy* carries him completely away. He has scarcely entreated before he confesses he has no right to entreat; he has scarcely sunk under his afflictions before he declares he has received the strength to battle with them, and he is a new man, erect. He shows faith, and submission, and abhorence, and rage; he yields, he questions, he admits he is unfit; he is tranquil, and then vehement; he adores, and then he scorns; and then, suddenly, his arms drop by his side lifeless, and he is a picture still, but this time of nothing but a light-bearded, long-coated, intelligent-faced man.—Frazer's Magazine.

Hebrew Philanthrophy.

The Hebrews have always been remarkable for their excellent system of charitable relief, in which but one other religious body, the Quakers, can rival them. No one ever saw a Hebrew beggar or a destitute Quaker, and this is not owing to the absence of want among them, but to their peculiar and thorough arrangements for taking care of their poor. Each synagogue has a committee composed of the most respectable members, whose business it is to inquire into the condition of every Hebrew in their district, and to afford assistance to such as require it. They act on the simple principle of putting the needy in a situation to supply their own wants, and do not encourage pauperism. Work is furnished to such as cannot get employment, and many of the peddlers and glaziers in our city have been set up by them. The aged are pensioned and the disabled placed in a hospital, or furnished with regular relief. The Mount Sinai Hospital is one of the best in the city; it has been organized seventeen years, and is remarkable for being open to all persons; without regard to color, sex or creed; Hebrew, Christians, blacks and whites being found among the patients. During the year 1868 there were 671 indoor and 743 out-door patients treated, at a total outlay of $19,880, of which only $3,707 was for salaries. There is a Hebrew Orphan Asylum, and they have also a number of benevolent and mutual benefit societies in the city. The great efficiency of these is due to their being superintended by the most energetic and influential members of the denomination, who take a personal interest in their management. A grant has lately been received from the city of twelve lots on Lexington avenue, between Sixty-Sixth and Sixty-Seventh streets, for a new hospital; and efforts are making to raise money for the erection of a suitable building.—N. Y. Post.

Profits of Copper Mining.

Let us take into consideration the very great number of mining corporations that have expended millions in the country and received nothing in return. During the last twenty years there have been 104 mining companies organized; they have paid in the enormous sum of $14,319,500, for which stockholders have not received one cent. Including the eight mines referred to, there has been paid in assessments, near $17,000,000, and dividends declared amounting to over $6,000,000, giving a rate, for the entire work performed, of less than 37 per cent., and considerably less than 2 per cent. annually. These eight companies are the Central, Copper Falls, Franklin, Minnesota, National Pewabic, Pittsburgh and Boston (old Cliff,) and Quincy, which have paid in assessments to the value of $1,931,000, and returned in dividends $6,100,000. Our readers will please observe right here, that these are the only dividend-paying mines that the copper regions of Lake Superior have ever had.

Polygamic Depopulation.

A Salt Lake City letter says: A Mormon graveyard is the most melancholy sight on earth. One bishop here has seventeen children buried in one row, and the longest grave is not over four feet! If these men have but the common feelings of humanity, how fearfully are the punished for the crime of polygamy. Brigham's children are generally healthy, except that the girls mostly have weak eyes, and two of them are nearly blind; but they are well housed and clothed. But such is the exception, and I could mention a dozen men whose houses are full of women, but their children are in the grave.

The Asiatic institution was never meant to flourish on American soil, and has resulted here in a "slaughter of the innocents," which is saddening to contemplate.

An Act Allowing Parties in Interest to be Witnesses.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same:

That no interest nor policy of law shall exclude a party or person from being a witness in any civil proceeding: Provided, This act shall not alter the law, as now declared and practiced in the Courts of this Commonwealth, so as to allow husband and wife to testify against each other, nor counsel to testify to the confidential communication of his client; and this act shall not apply to actions by or against executors, administrators or guardians, nor where the assignor of the thing or contract in action may be dead, excepting in issues and inquiries devisavit vel non and others, respecting the right of such deceased owner, between parties claiming such right by devolution on the death of such owner.

SEC. 2. That a party to the record of any civil proceeding, in law or equity, or a person for whose immediate benefit such proceeding is prosecuted or defended, may be examined as if under cross-examination, at the instance of the adverse party, or any of them, and for that purpose may be compelled, in the same manner, and subject to the same rules for examination, as any other witness, to testify; but the party calling for such examination shall not be concluded thereby, but may rebut it by counter testimony.

SEC. 3. That the testimony of witnesses authorized by this act may be had by deposition or commission issued, as the case may require, with such notice to the party to be examined, and to the adverse party, as is now or may hereafter be prescribed by the rules of the proper Court, touching the taking of depositions and testimony on commission.

JOHN CLARK.
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
WILMER WORTHINGTON,
Speaker of the Senate.

APPROVED—The fifteenth day of April, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine.

JNO. W. GEARY.

LARGE BELLS are now hung in England upon a plan by which the friction is so reduced that they can be rung without the exertion of much force. The system consists in making the gudgeons upon which the bell is hung V-shaped, like the bearings of a scale-beam, and applying the power by a lever attached to the stock, the wheel being dispensed with. The gudgeons must not be lower than the top of the bell. In a recent experiment with this new method, a bell, with a diameter at it's mouth of 76½ inches and weighing 10,000 pounds, is easier than pulling a clapper by a rope, and does not involve so great a risk of cracking the bell. The tone is also said to be much grander.

GOLDEN HAIR FLUIDS have recently been the subject of continued investigation by an English chemist, who, after a careful analysis, asserts that they are composed of dilute nitric and muriatic acids, with traces, in some instances, of sulphuric acid. Though the proprietors of these fluids announce that these preparations are harmless, yet instances have been reported of ladies being injured by drops of the hair dye falling on their shoulders. The agent to effect the change in the color of the hair is the nitric acic, aided by the chlorine evolved by the decomposition of the muriatic acid.

TRUSSES AND HERNIA.

The sad and deplorable condition of many who are afflicted with hernia or rupture of the bowels, calls loudly for some efficient and unmistakable remedy that will not only in every case give efficient relief, but in many cases effect a radical and thorough cure. These cases of hernia have become so frequent, that it is computed that one-sixth of the male population are said to be troubled, in some way or another, with this terrible ailment; and in very many cases do not know where to apply for an appropriate remedy, oftentimes not knowing whether an appliance is really needed or not; and if it should be needed, they often do not know where or to whom they should make application. The world is full of Trusses for the retention and cure of this lamentable evil, oftentimes an incontestable proof of their total and inadequate fitness to relieve the sufferer. This need not be; Dr. Keyser, at his new medicine store, No. 167 Liberty street, is abundantly supplied with every appliance, needful to the retention and relief of this terrible affliction, so that every one can be properly fitted at a moderate cost, with the full assurance that the appliance is the best that the mechanical department of surgery can afford. The Doctor has pursued the investigation of hernia with more than ordinary care for over thirty years, so that the afflicted can place implicit reliance on his skill and integrity with the full assurance that they will not only get the best truss, suitable to the case, but likewise a thorough and efficient knowledge of its proper application.

There are many persons who not only sacrifice their health, but even their lives, for want of a proper truss, or a truss properly applied. Strangulated and irreducable rupture, is a far more common ailment now than in former years; and may we not justly arrive at the conclusion, that its frequency is often occasioned by the neglect and carelessness of the sufferers themselves. No one would be regarded as sane or excusable who would go for a whole winter without the proper clothing to shield them from the inclemency of the weather, but, at the same time, it is thought a light affair to suffer for years with a protrusion that not only subjects the person to inconvenience, but even places life itself in jeopardy. Those of our readers who may be unfortunate to need appliances of this kind cannot act more wisely than to cut this advertisement out and preserve it, so as to enable them to retain the place where such important preservers of life and health are to be procured.

THE PUREST AND SAFEST.

The efficacy of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS as a specific for recruiting the enfeebled body and cheering the desponding mind has passed into a proverb. In the United States where this marvelous tonic has borne down all opposition and eclipsed all rivalry, the demand for it has annually increased in a heavier and heavier ratio for years, until, at last, the regular sales of this preparation exceed those of all other stomachics combined. Eminent members of the medical profession and hospital surgeons without number, have candidly admitted that th pharmacopiae of the faculty contains no prescription that produces such beneficial effects in dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. To use the language of a venerable physician of New York, "The Bitters are the purest stimulant and the safest tonic we have." But the uses of the great vegetable antidote are much more comprehensive than such praise would imply. As a PREPARATORY ANTIDOTE to epidemic disease, a genial stimulant, a promoter of constitutional vigor, an appetizer, a stomachic, and a remedy for nervous debility, no medicinal preparation has ever attained the reputation of HOSTETER'S BITTERS. It is the HOUSEHOLD TONIC of the AMERICAN PEOPLE, and in all human probability will be so for centuries to come. The magnates of Science recognize its merits; and that it is emphatically the medicine of the masses, is proved by its vast and ever increasing sale

☞ PUBLIC NOTICE.
Pursuant to an act of Assembly, approved the 30th of March, 1869, entitled "an act relating to interments in Trinity Church-yard, Pittsburgh," Public Notice is hereby given of the intention of the minister, wardens and vestry of Trinity (Episcopal) Church, after the 10th of MAY, proximo, to use a part of the grave-ground belonging to or connected with said church, as sites for new erections of Church and Chapel and for graves, and that Messrs. JOHN H. SHOENBERGER, JAMES M. COOPER, CALVIN ADAMS and JOSIAH KING, of the vestry, have been appointed a Committee to confer and arrange with the friends and relatives of all persons buried in the ground required for the purposes set forth in the act of Assembly aforesaid, for their retention under the new buildings or removal to other parts of the lot or to one of the rural cemeteries. One or more of the Committee may be found at the vestry room of the church at 3 to 5 o'clock P. M., on every WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY until the 15th of MAY, at which time and place parties interested will please call.
By order of the Vestry.
JOSIAH KING,
ap16:h59 Junior Warden.

☞ PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.
TREASURER'S DEPARTMENT,
PHILADELPHIA, PA., April 2, 1869.
TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY.
All Stockholders, as registered on the Books of this Company on the 30th day of April, 1869, will be entitled to subscribe for TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT. of their respective interests in New Stock, at par, as follows:
First. Fifty per cent. at the time of subscription, between the 15th day of May, 1869, and the 30th day of June, 1869.
Second. Fifty per cent. between the 15th day of November, 1869, and the 31st day of December, 1869; or, if Stockholders should prefer, the whole amount may be paid up at the time of subscription, and each instalment so paid up shall be entitled to a pro rata of the Div. dend that may be declared on full shares.
Third. That every Stockholder holding less than four shares, shall be entitled to subscribe for one share; and those holding more than a multiple of four shares shall be entitled to subscribe for an additional share.
Fourth. All shares upon which instalments are yet to be paid under Resolution of May 13, 1868, will be entitled to their allotment of the Twenty-five per cent. at par, as though they were paid in full.
ap15:h46 THOMAS T. FIRTH, Treasurer.

☞ TO CONTRACTORS.

LEGS!
LEGS!!
The Artificial Limb Manufacturing CO.
CHARTERED BY THE STATE OF PENNA.
All Shareholders are Men Wearing the Limbs Made by the Company.

To those requiring a limb we would say that our own experience has induced us to establish a factory here that would make a comfortable and durable limb for a reasonable price. After trying a number of solid socket and padded socket legs, we have each found more comfort and usefulness in this "ADJUSTABLE LACEING SOCKET" than in any other made in the country. One of our number, a skilled mechanic, has charge of the shop. We have bought the right to use two of the best patents, and by our experience we hope to improve in every way that will add to the comfort, durability or appearance of the limbs we make. We have put the price of our new legs at $80. Persons from a distance are only detained in the city while the measure and a cast of the injured limb is taken.
The saving to purchasers, as compared with Eastern prices, is from $20 to $95 in the price of legs; at least $26 railroad fare, hotel bills and other traveling expenses, and then we are satisfied that our limb will give better satisfaction than any one made in New York or Philadelphia. If we can get orders, we can maintain our factory at the above price, and we therefore ask an examination before going elsewhere.
We make to order and keep on hand a supply of stockings, braces, and appliances for injured or deformed limbs, also, crutches, trusses, shoulder braces, &c. For further information or circular, containing many testimonial letters from those who have worn our artificial limbs, address No. 503 PENN STREET, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, Pittsburgh, Pa. ap13:h35 TTHT

FINANCE AND TRADE.

The gold market opened at 133¾, an advance of one half per cent on Saturday's quotations, reached 134¼, and after again touching 133¾, closed strong at 133¾. The scarcity of cash gold enables parties to lock up gold and force those who, in anticipation of lower quotations, have sold in advance, to pay either a high rate for borrowing gold or pay the advanced rates demanded. The large amounts of coupons, however, now coming on the market, will ease the market in a day or two; the more so, since the returns are to be made to Europe in bonds instead of drafts or gold.

The Government bond market opened at an advance of ⅛ per cent, but soon settled down on the average quotations of Saturday. Bonds seem to have touched the highest point. The demand from Europe is not increased and the interior has no money to buy, and few are disposed to pay so high a price as 15 per cent. above par.

Stocks are strong, but closed at a slight decline.

Money is easier and business is improving gradually.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. NEW YORK, April 19, 1869.

Money easy and steady at 7 per cent. for call loans. Sterling dull at 107⅝@108 for first class bills. The great feature of Wall street was the effect produced by rumors relative to the Cuban revolution, Lord Stanley's reported speech, denying any wrong was committed in the case of the Alabama, and Senator Chandler's warlike resolution and speech in the Senate. Gold advanced ½ per cent. and stocks fell ⅛@1⅛ per cent. It is stated the Atlantic and Great Western Road has passed into the control of the receivers, of whom Jay Gould is one. Its coupons have not been cashed by the Erie Company since April 16th, and the notice of March 30th that they would cash them is revoked.

Gold is firm and opened at 132⅞, fell to 133½ and closed at 133⅞@133¾. Rates paid for borrowing 2, 1-64, 1-32 and 3-64, and for carrying 2 per cent. The Western, from Europe, brought 17,000 pounds.

Stocks are slightly lower, but at the close steady. There has been no amount of realizing, but on the contrary German buyers have been picking up stock at a decline. Dealers are generally out of bonds, and, therefore, cannot appear as sellers, while there is no stock offering from out of town. Coupons of '81, 117¼@117⅜; do. '62, 120½@120¾; do. '64, 116@116⅛; do. '65, 117¾@117⅞; do. new, 115½@115¼; do. '67, 115⅛@116; do., '68, 115⅞@115¼; 10-40s, 106¼@106¼.

State bonds weak on new North Carolina and firm on other descriptions: Missouris, 82½; old Tennessees, 68½@69, and new do., 66⅜@66⅞; old North Carolinas, 61@64, and new 53¼@53¼; old Virginias, 58@58½, and new 61½@62; Louisiana levee bonds, 70¼@70½.

The stock market was very active during the morning, with the highest made at the opening, though the market generally continued strong, except on Northwestern, which was barely steady; New York Central 166⅞, Rock Island 140, Pacific Mail 95¾, St. Paul, common, 81¼, and preferred 87⅝, Wabash 74, and Michigan Southern 99¾, were the features. Express stocks were strong and higher early in the afternoon, with prices generally lower under sales to realize, with continued activity in New York Central. Pacific Mail, St. Paul and Rock Island are now dull and heavy, and the closing prices were a little up from the lowest point, still ½ and 1½ per cent. off from best rates of the day. Harlem was an exception and higher. Miscellaneous stocks steady, except Pacific Mail, which declined to 93¼ on the warlike dispatches as regards England from Washington. Express stocks buoyant, though the best prices were not sustained at the close.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The markets, in a general way, are devoid of anything that is really new or important. There is a fair local demand for most of the leading articles and a fair volume of business in the aggregate, while prices, generally, are without material change.

APPLES—Very scarce, and prime to choice may be quoted at $6@7 per bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—90@$1 per gallon.

BUTTER—Is very dull with a supply largely in excess of the demand, and prices are weak and drooping; sales of prime to choice Roll at 38@42,

BEANS—Dull at $3@3,50 per bushel.

CHEESE—Sales of New Western Reserve at from 15@20, as to quality, and New York Goshen at 22@23.

CARBON OIL—Is still quoted at 29@30, in a jobbing way, for standard brands.

CORNMEAL—$1,75@1,80 per cwt.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches dull but unchanged at 14 for quarters, and 18@19 for halves. Apples scarce and in demand; may be quoted at 12@14.

EGGS—In good supply and dull at 17, with some few sales reported at 18.

FLOUR—There is nothing new in the Flour, market worthy of special notice. We can now report a continued fair local demand but prices although steady are unchanged; Spring Wheat brands at $6,50@7; and Winter Wheat at $7,50@8. Rye Flour $7,25. Mill prices unchanged.

GRAIN—Wheat is dull and nominal at $1,48@150 for prime Red. Oats scarce and higher; we now quote at 67@68 on track and 70@72 in store. Ear corn is in steady demand at 78@80 on wharf, and 83@85 in store. Rye is scarce and higher; $1,45@1,46. Barley is out of season, and while the demand is very light, the supply is almost exhausted in this market; Choice Spring would probably command $2.

HAY—In good demand with sales of prime loose pressed, on wharf, at $28@30.

HOMINY—$5,75@6 per bbl.

HEMP—$215@220 per ton.

LARD OIL—Is quoted at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,53@1.54 for No 1.

MAPLE MOLASSES—Sales in gallon jugs at $1,50@1,75.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady at 14 for Shoulders; 16½ for Ribbed, and 17¾@18 for Clear Sides; and 19¼@19½ for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is quoted at 18¾@19¼, as to quality, and Dried Beef at 21. Mess Pork $32,00.

POTATOES—In good supply but unchanged; sales in store at 75, and on track at 70.

PEANUTS—Quoted at 11 cts.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is in fair demand, at $10, while Timothy Seed is scarce and higher being quoted at $4,75. Nothing doing in Flaxseed—little or none in market.

SALT—May be quoted at $1,80@1,85 by the car load, and $1,95@2 for small lots in store.

WHISKY—Dull and unchanged.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

The oil market although firm is in a peculiar and unsatisfactory condition with but very little doing, and what is worse still, there are no indications at present of any immediate improvement. Notwithstanding prices are higher than they were a few days since, the manufacturer is none the better of it, as he has no more margin now than he had then. When Refined advances Crude generally follows, so that while it is true he can realize more for the former he has to pay more for the latter. As we have repeatedly stated, there is no profit for the refiner at present prices, and this has been the case nearly all winter; Crude is relatively higher than refined; Crude is relatively cheaper here than at Oil City, and relatively lower in New York than it is here, and refined is relatively lower in Philadelphia and New York than it is in Europe. This may seem strange yet we are assured by those who have figured it over and over, that it is true. If there is any way of remedying the matter it should be attended to, and the sooner the better. In the present state of affairs, operators, generally, are discouraged, and there is not that life and bouyancy in the trade which usually prevails, particularly at this season of the year.

CRUDE—Not a single sale reported to-day. The market is steady with but little offering, and holders are stiff, refusing to make concessions in order to effect sales. Spot oil may be fairly quoted at 15; seller to July at 15, and seller for May and June, at 16. It is probable that their will be some more arrivals by river within the next few days, as the Allegheny is again in a fine navigable condition.

REFINED—Sale of 500 bbls spot at 32½; 1,000 last half April, at 32¼; and 1,000 each May and June, at 34. Quotations—May, 33½; June and July, 34; June to December, 36; Buyer all year, 38½@38¾. Market firm but quiet.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

SPRING MANAGEMENT OF TURKEYS.

Turkeys begin to lay, in ordinary seasons, the last week in March. Their natural disposition leads them to seek nests in woodlands, away from the farm-house. This should be prevented. Their natural enemies are the fox and skunk. The former steals the turkey, the latter the eggs; and where these animals abound, the chance of escape from the one or the other is about one in five.

This difficulty must be met at the outset The best way is to prepare as many portable minature houses as you have turkeys. They should be three feet long, three feet wide, and three feet high, triangular in shape, with an entrance at one end.

These should be placed in some locality near the house, where the turkeys are accustomed to resort, and be partially filled with hay or straw, or leaves—the last being the the best. If these houses can be partially hidden by a slight covering of brush, or something of the kind, they will suit the turkeys better.

Whenever they begin to show a disposition to wander away to find nests, they must be constantly kept near these little houses. If your attention is diverted from them for a half hour, especially in the fore part of the day, one of the flock will probably be missing, and when once they have made a nest, it is almost impossible to induce them to lay elsewhere. —This care must be continued for about two weeks: meantime each of your hens has selected her house and begun to make her daily deposit of an egg.

Your first trouble is now past. The eggs should be taken from the nests each night, and the product of each bird kept by itself. The vigor of the mother will sometimes make a day's difference in the hatching; and each turkey should have her own eggs.

Four weeks from the day the turkey commences sitting, the young will appear. At the outset, they are very weak; but they will grow stronger without food for at least twenty-four hours, when, in the middle of the forenoon, or later in the day, they should be removed from the nest and placed in a little enclosure, made by setting up on the edge four boards some ten or twelve feet long, in the form of a square. They should be fed with coarse ground Indian-meal, mixed with curdled milk, at the beginning, and at least every alternate morning for six weeks. Each night, for the first week, they should be carefully driven into their respective houses, now removed within the board enclosure, and securely fastened in by putting boards cleated together against the opening. When they are a week or ten days old, they may be allowed the range of some lot near the house, on pleasant days, but should always be driven up and be put into some tight stable and well fed as early as five o'clock in the afternoon, and never be let out in the morning until the grass is nearly if not quite dry, and not at all on rainy or cold misty days.

Six week after being hatched they will need little food outside of what they pick up during the day, but your care with regard to driving up must never be relaxed. Instances have been repeatedly known where a single fox has killed forty young turkeys in a single night, and the nights that your turkeys are left out will be the nights whereon Reynard will make his visits.

When they are eight weeks old the habit of coming up in the afternoon will be fixed. They should then be carefully driven into a roost near the house, and when once they get accustomed to the roost, and are always found there at night, you can calculate with almost absolute certainty the number of birds that you will have for the Thanksgiving or Christmas market.—Hearth and Home.

THE GARDEN IN APRIL.

Little is gained, but much vexation and disappointment result often from planting tender vegetables in the garden or elsewhere too early. The ground must have time to thaw, settle and become warm; and if the garden is naturally well drained, or has been underdrained thoroughly, these conditions are much earlier attained than otherwise. Having so often urged the necessity or importance and economy of a good garden in connection with the farm and household, it is unnecessary to further allude to it here. Those who have enjoyed the products of a well-managed garden will not need further arguments to convince them of its importance. Those who have neglected the farm for other general farm crops and products are assured that a good garden will pay—pay in more than one way, too. The requisites are a good sheltered, warm location, with fair exposure to the rays of the morning and mid-day sun, warm, rich, deep, well-fined soil, with plenty of good manure, and a spirit of energy and perseverance not to be discouraged at trifles, not inclined to put off a present duty to a more convenient time. It is very easy to test the correctness of this statement by trying a garden, as recommended, and keep a rigid debt and credit account with it, crediting everything taken from it at its market value, and charging everything laid out on it; and at the end of the year compare the account with that of any field crop, without taking into the account the great degree of health you and your family have enjoyed from having vegetables, &c., fresh from the garden, instead of those bought in the market after having become wilted and losing their freshness, or from having been raised by yourself instead of others.

Many gardens in the country will pay well for underdraining. Soils are benefitted in many ways by underdraining. Thorough underdraining is often equivalent to an entire change of soil and climate, making the soil more porous, sweet, mellow, warm, &c. A single drain will often work wonders in a garden, and it will cost but little to try the experiment.

With most farmers, early this month will be soon enough to start the hot-bed. Modes of preparing and managing them have heretofore been given and need not now be repeated. Sow seeds for early and tender plants, and those requiring a long season, such as lettuce, radishes, egg-plants, &c.

I have always found it perfectly safe, in planting beans, cucumbers, melons and the like, "to make haste slowly," and retain the seeds in the house till well into May, when we have settled warm weather.—Wm. H. White in New England Farmer.

PLOWING.

In plowing, see that the work is well done. Let the furrow-slice be fairly turned that the decomposible matter contained in the roots may be perfectly inhumed, and secured from the wasting effect of the atmosphere. This is very important. If you apply dressing before breaking up, too much care cannot be exercised in the accomplishment of this work, as upon its efficiency will depend, in a great measure the success of the subsequent undertaking. No baulks should be passed over; what the plowshare leaves should be turned over with the hoe or hand. Many plows perform their work imperfectly. In the first place they do not detach the furrow-slice at a proper angle, and then instead of inverting it, they either "stand it on edge," or break it in pieces, Impliments of this character are worse than worthless. When land is imperfectly plowed, the after cultivation is always onerous and perplexing, and as a natural consequence is poorly performed. It is therefore much better to expend money for a good plow—one that will perform its work in a satisfactory manner, than to use an imperfect one, as it will entail obstacles which will be found no way easy to overcome.—Massachusetts Farmer.

FOR ALL COWS' UDDERS

That are caked I use linseed oil very freely, and have never failed to effect a cure. Take a clean, good-sized paint brush, a fine one that will hold the oil, and apply it thoroughly three times a day. and take all the milk from the teats you can get every time, and I think it will effect a cure; it has done so with us every time.

Let me further say that the same brush and cup of oil should stand in the stable or milk yard the year through, and every scratch or crack or sore teat should get a brush every time before milking, and you will be astonished to see how soon the sore teat will be well, and the cow will stand quiet while being milked. Try it, dairymen; it costs but little, is very convenient, and is not unpleasant to use like grease. Be sure to put it on before milking, and it will be worked into all the fine cracks that some cows are famous for, and which will make the gentlest cow kick a man over—and I don't blame her either.—L. F. Scott, in the Country Gentleman.

A PEACH TREE PRESCRIPTION.

A correspondent, hearing from all quarters complaints that the peach-trees are failing, advises the following treatment: "First, kill the borer, then break up the ground slightly about the trees, and spread refuse flax-stalks or flax-straws far enough to cover all its roots. The experiment has been tried on an old, languishing peach tree with great success. It soon recovered, pushing out vigorous shoots, and was loaded with larger and better fruit than ever before. Or, in other words, kill the insects and mulch the soil. Just so! This treatment will be found to succeed with other fruit trees as well as the peach. When the borer once gets into the wood he cannot be cut out with a knife. He must be punched out with an annealed wire. The idea of destroying the pest by driving a nail into the tree is preposterous.—Hearth and Home.

DUCK RAISING.

Less is known about the diseases of ducks than of fowls. They are, in our experience, best hatched by hens and kept in a dry pen for several weeks. Give plenty of grass, frequently renewed, keep water always before them in shallow vessels, and feed often. A pen of boards a foot high, covered with laths nailed across the top, with one corner or one end covered, to exclude rain, is all sufficient. This pen should be frequently shifted upon dry grassy ground. If one is noticed moping, swelled up, or out of sorts in any way, give soaked bread and milk, red with Cayenne pepper. The best are Rouens, Aylesbury, and Cayuga blacks. Points of excellence for common purposes are size and number of eggs.

EVERY person can raise his own tomato and egg-plants with very little trouble. Select a warm border, enrich heavily with horse-manure, pulverize the ground thoroughly, and sow pretty thickly, thinning out if necessary. A common window-sash or two, raised two or three inches over them, on any kind of supports, will greatly facilitate their vegetation and growth. If they are transplanted into other beds when they are three or four inches high, so that they will stand about three inches apart each way, it will cause them to become very stout in the stem, and they will branch considerably, making much stronger and more productive plants. Tomatoes should not be set out for a crop until the ground is warm and weather settled, say first of April or first of May, the latter, perhaps, the better. Egg-plants should never be set out before the last week in May. We prefer the Fiji tomato, and the long, purple egg-plant.

A correspondent of the Country Gentleman in Burlington county, N. J., says that very large water melons are grown extensively in that locality in the following way: The ground is plowed and then marked with a plow into rows nine or ten feet apart each way, and a hole sufficiently large to hold half a bushel of manure is dug at the crossings of the furrows, and a large shovelful is thrown in each hill and covered with soil. The hill when completed should be four inches higher than the general surface of the soil. Eight or ten seeds are sown in each hill, but only one plant is left to bear fruit. If very large ones are wanted allow but very few to a hill.

VALUABLE RECEIPTS.

To remove freckles, cut them out with a razor and throw them away.

To bring out a moustache, tie it to a strong cord, twenty feet long, to the other end of which attach a heavy smoothing-iron, and throw the latter from a fourth story window.

To get rid of red hair, hold your head for a few minutes in a strong blaze of gas.

To avoid corpulence, quit eating.

To conceal bad teeth, keep your mouth shut.

To keep out of debt, acquire the reputation of a rascal, and no one will trust you.

To become a complete book-keeper, borrow all the books you can and never return them.

To keep your doors from being broken open by burglars, don't close them.

To keep out of a fight, stay by yourself.

To gain time, steal a watch.

To keep from stuttering, don't talk.

ACCORDING to German statistics, more than 250,000 emigrants left Europe in 1868 to find homes in America. Of these, 120,000 embarked at Liverpool, 66,000 at Bremen, 44,000 at Hamburg, 20,000 at Havre, and about 2,000 at Antwerp.

FOUNDRY SITE, &c.,

AT AUCTION.

WEDNESDAY, April 21st, at 2½ o'clock P. M., on the premises, will be sold that property known as the UTILITY WORKS, corner of Fulton and Juniata streets, Allegheny City. The Lot fronts on Fulton street 130 feet and 72 feet on Juniata street to a 20 foot alley (thus having the advantage of three fronts,) on which is erected a large building for machine shop, with pattern room, ware room, office and engine room, japanning room, &c., making a complete works for making of small castings. The machinery consists of engine, boiler, shafting, pulleys, scouring barrels, grindstones, patent drills, lathes, and a complete assortment of pattern cards, for the production of a class of goods of which the establishment had almost the exclusive control. If not sold as a whole, the ground will be divided and sold in lots to suit purchasers, together with the buildings, the machinery, &c. If not sold will be removed. The location cannot be surpassed, and the property is fast increasing in value for building purposes. Further particulars by enquiring of WM. B. McLEAN & CO., or H. B. SMITHSON & CO.,

LOTS, LOTS, LOTS,

AT AUCTION,

ON SATURDAY, APRIL 24,

AT THREE O'CLOCK, a highly attractive auction sale of Building Lots will take place on the property of Mr. Dilhm, on and near the Perrysville road and Observatory grounds, and fronting the residences of Mr. McClintock and Mayor Drum. There are seventy lots ranging in size from 24 by 31 to 25 by 100 feet. The situation is really delightful, being on gently rising ground, from which very fine views of the adjacent country are obtainable. It is within easy walking distance of the city, and yet free from its smoke and dirt. It is within five minutes' walk of the Pleasant Valley Street Railway.

To men who wish to secure a homestead in a locality bound to progress in advantages and value, the present is an exceedingly favorable opportunity. Now is the time to strike for a home. Good lots near the city at low prices are getting rare.

Terms of sale—Half cash; balance in one and two years. Call and see plat at office of Off Track.—A train of empty coal cars was thrown off the track yesterday morning, near the Union Depot, by a brick being placed on the rails. The train was replaced without injury.

The Fair now in progress in the M. E. Church, Temperanceville, will be continued every evening until Saturday, April 24th. The proceeds will be used in remodeling the church. Friends of the church and all others who wish to help the cause are respectfully invited to attend.

Temperance Meeting.—The Allegheny Temperance League will meet this evening at seven and a half o'clock, in Dr. Clark's church, corner of Sandusky street and Stockton avenue. Addresses will be delivered by Professor Crumb and the Rev. John B. Clark, D.D. The public are cordially invited.

False Pretenses.—John Adam Roth, a butcher, in the Diamond Market, made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging William Thomas with obtaining money and meat to the amount of seventeen dollars by false and fraudulent representations. He was arrested and in default of bail committed to jail for a hearing.

A Fatal Sausage.—Wm. W. Wilson, of Mt. Washington, appeared before Alderman McMasters yesterday, and lodged information against John Fink, for malicious mischief. The alleged offense consisted of administering a piece of poisoned sausage to a valuable watch dog, causing the animal to die. Warrant issued.

Burke in Litigation—Edmund Burke not he of oratorical renown, but Edmund of Webster street this city, called at Alderman McMasters yesterday, and lodged information against Bridget Malie, for larceny. Burke alleges Bridget stole his pocket-book containing ten dollars and fifty cents. The accused was arrested and in default of bail, committed to jail for trial.

More of Them.—Last evening another lot of young men were before Mayor Drum, charged with loafing around the Methodist Church, Sixth ward Allegheny. Complaint was made at the Mayor's office several times, and on Sunday evening some of the police arrested all they could find engaged in the practice. The parties were each fined one dollar, and discharged upon payment.

Information Wanted. — Last Friday morning, Wm. Gangley, a lad aged about thirteen years, left his home near the Manchester car stables, Sixth ward, Allegheny, in search of work, but has not been heard of since. The boy's mother is a widow, and is very much distressed at his disappearance. Any information of him left at the Allegheny Mayor's office will be thankfully received.

A Helpless Prisoner.—Last evening some of the Allegheny police discovered a man in a state of beastly intoxication, lying on the pavement on Robinson street near the railroad bridge. Finding it impossible to get him to stand, a wheel barrow was procured, the inebriate placed in it, and the shafts manned by officer Dan Graham, who succeeded in a short time in depositing his load at the lockup.

Going It Blind.—Yesterday morning a blind horse attached to a cart, left standing a few minutes on Ferry street, by its owner, started off. For a short distance it went well enough, but finally brought up on a cellar door on the sidewalk, near Fifth avenue, and broke through into the cellar, receiving several severe bruises and gashes by the fall. After a deal of trouble it was removed and walked off, this time under the guidance of its owner.

The closing exercises of the Western Theological Seminary will take place in the First Presbyterian Church, (Dr. Swift's) Allegheny city, to-morrow, Wednesday evening, at 7½ o'clock. There will be three addresses, viz: Valedictory, by J. H. Montgomery; Response, by J. Rogers Wilson; a presentation of diplomas and address by Prof. S. J. Wilson, D. D. From the well known abilities of the speakers the exercises will be unusually interesting.

Assaulted an Officer.—Barney O'Donnell, a resident of the "Bull Run" District, yesterday evening assaulted officer Eckoff, at the corner of High and Wylie streets. The officer it appears was passing up Wylie street, and when at the corner mentioned, Barney being slightly inebriated staggered against him. The officer cautioned him to be careful whereupon Barney kicked him. He was then taken into custody, and consigned to the lock-up where he was provided with lodgings until the opening of the Mayor's court this morning, when he will be disposed of.

Felonious Assault.

Yesterday, Christy Bradford made information, before Alderman Lynch, against Jerry Driscoll, James Dean and others, for felonious assault and battery. Christy had made information on Saturday morning against Driscoll for selling liquor on Sunday. Saturday evening he went into Driscoll's saloon, on Webster street, where, he alleges, the accused attacked him, one of them striking him with an iron bar, inflicting two severe gashes on his head and fracturing his shoulder blade. Dr. Donnelly attended to his injuries. Yesterday he made the information as stated. Warrants were issued.

Serious Accident—One Man Killed and Two Injured.

Friday evening last a number of men were engaged in unloading a boat load of iron ore, at Everson & Preston's Mills, in the Sixth ward, when the coupling pin came out of one of the loaded cars as it was ascending the incline, and the car ran back into the boat striking Michael Haney, William Chambers and William Bruce. Chambers was seriously injured internally, and Bruce had one of his legs badly crushed. Haney received a fracture of the skull and other injuries, which resulted in his death. He was removed to Mercy Hospital Saturday morning, and died Sunday morning. Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body yesterday, when the jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

American Bank.

It will be seen from a card published in another column of this issue that the American Bank is thoroughly organized and opened for the transaction of a general banking business, at No. 80 Fourth avenue. Our most worthy and wealthy friend, Jno. Floyd, Esq., has been elected President by a unanimous vote. This is a well merited compliment to a gentleman who has been actively engaged in business for the last forty years, thirty-five of which have been spent in Pittsburgh. A gentleman who has sustained such an unblemished character as Mr. Floyd, and been so successful in the management of his own private business as to amass an independent fortune, is just the one to place at the head of such an institution. All interests committed to his care will be faithfully attended to. He will do a safe, and at the same time a profitable business. Wm. Floyd, Esq., a gentleman who has had a business experience of about twenty years, and bears the reputation of being an excellent financier, has been elected Cashier. The Stockholders and Directors, who are individually responsible, are all well known in this community as practical business men, and rich in the possession of this world's goods. The institution is a safe one and will no doubt receive an extensive patronage.

The following gentlemen have been elected Directors: John Floyd, William Floyd, Thos. M. Marshall, Jas. W. Arrott, John M. Murtland, Wm. T. Shannon, Archibald Wallace, Jas. D. Kelly, Chas. B. Leech.

Youthful Informers.

Yesterday morning Fred. Zacharias, a boy about fifteen years of age, made information before the Mayor, charging Garrett Phelan, of the Twelfth ward, Jacob Guttendorf, of Bloomfield, James McMannus, proprietor of the McMannus House, Penn street, and Pat. Bradley, Wylie street, with selling liquor on Sunday. It appears that Fred, in company with several other boys, were on a bit of a "spree" Sunday, and during the day visited all the places above named and purchased liquor, and the consequence was they were considerably intoxicated. Feeling repentant the next morning, as drunken men mostly do, when it is impossible to get another drink, Fred resolved to attone for his misconduct on the day previous by bringing all the above named parties to justice, and hence the information. Bradley waived a hearing and paid the penalty of fifty dollars, which each of the others were required to do after a hearing. One-half of the penalty in each case, one hundred dollars in all, was paid to the informer, and the other half to the Guardians of the Poor.

A pretty good day's work for a boy. We would advise him to try his luck again, but he might omit the drunk. He can buy the liquor and throw it out, which will answer the same purpose in the prosecution as drinking the vile stuff.

Confidence Operations on a Small Scale.

On Friday morning last a respectable looking German, with a basket on his arm, entered the Diamond Market and, after looking round for some time, stopped at Mr. Thomas Kimberlan's stand and inquired very particularly about the price of meat, after which he remarked that he must go and purchase some eggs and, having no small change, asked Mr. K. to let him have three or five dollars for a few moments, and as soon as he purchased the eggs he would return and get his basket of beef and pay the whole amount. Mr. Kimberlan very generously gave him the three dollars, but the fellow neglected to call for his basket and beef.

The next day the same individual played the trick on Mr. Adam Roth. Mr. Roth said he suspected him, having heard of the transaction of the previous day, and gave him the money as a trap, intending to have him arrested, but while he was in search of an officer the fellow made his escape.

Bold Burglars—Attempt to Rob the City Bank.

Saturday and Sunday nights a bold attempt was made to rob the City Bank, on Fifth avenue, opposite the Cathedral. The operators effected an entrance into the cellar underneath the bank, from a door over an entrance leading from a public alley at the side of the building. They were evidently experienced hands at the business, and took every precaution to escape detection. After getting inside, it seems they placed an old quilt across the entrance, and tucked it down in such a manner that the door was kept fastened, and not a ray of light could peer through to attract attention outside. The burglars, after fastening the windows of the cellar in a similar manner, went to work.

The bank vault, containing the safe and valuables, rests upon a foundation of solid masonry, six feet square, built up from the cellar to the floor of the banking room. This foundation is built in one corner of the cellar and capped by a flagstone about one foot in thickness, which extends over upon two of the cellar walls. The thieves commenced their operations on this foundation with the intention of first tearing it away, thus letting the floor of the vault fall, together with the safe, into the cellar. They seemed to have worked faithfully, and succeeded in tearing away about half of the foundation, commencing at one corner and demolishing it in a diagonal direction backward and upward. This would have allowed the flagstone to fall had it not still rested on the two walls of the cellar.

The thieves thus found themselves balked. To get the flag out they would have been compelled to tear down that portion of the cellar wall which it lapped over—a simple impracticability. At this point they seem to have been interrupted by the janitor of the building, Monday morning, who came to the side door on the alley, about four o'clock, and endeavored to get into the cellar, but found the entrance blocked up. He then trisd another entrance from the interior of the building, and was successful; the thieves, it is surmised, in the meanwhile beating a hasty retreat. When getting into the cellar he discovered the attempt, and thinking, from appearances, it to have been successful, he immediately proceeded to the residence of the Cashier, Mr. McTighe, and informed him of the affair.

Mr. McTighe, however, on arriving at the bank, found everything safe, and as soon as possible, employed a number of masons to repair the foundation, which was accomplished in a few hours. The thieves in their flight left behind the quilt, an auger and gimlet. With the auger they had bored a hole through the floor of the banking room, but for what purpose is not known. Chief of Police Hague took possession of these articles, but has not yet discovered the parties. The affair, though unsuccessful, was one of extreme boldness and perseverance. It is supposed the burglars were working two nights at least, as the work done could hardly have been accomplished in one.

There was no person about the bank from Saturday evening until Monday morning, and they had abundant opportunity to carry on their operations. The construction of the foundation for the vault speaks well for the forethought and sagacity of the builder, for to this arrangement it alone is due the failure of the robbers to accomplish their designs.

Mayor's Court.

The number of cases disposed of each morning at the Mayor's Court is an evidence of the efficiency and vigilance of the police force. It is a rare sight to see a drunken man on the street now unless he is accompanied by a city guardian. But notwithstanding the vigilance of the officers in this respect, it is quite evident from the number of persons in the lock-up yesterday morning, charged with drunkenness, that an immense quantity of whisky had been sold on Sunday, yet we do not hear of any dealers being returned by members of the police force for violation of the law. There appears to be an aversion among the police generally against making informations of this character, which is altogether wrong. It is as much their duty to inform on a man for a violation of the Sunday liquor law, as it is their duty to arrest a drunken man. More than this, the law itself offers a reward to the man who faithfully performs his duty under it.

Water Pipe Laid.

Water-pipe has been laid on Whitesides alley in the Eighth ward, and is now being laid on Townsend street. It has been the custom heretofore to postpone the laying of water-pipe until after the streets or alleys were graded and paved, a very bad custom evidently, as it necessitated the breaking of the corner or centre of the paved street, in order to to lay the pipe, and the pavement being generally relaid before the ground has thoroughly settled, as a matter of course, the paving would settle, more or less, at that point and leave the street uneven. This custom, we are informed, has been abandoned, and the pipe is now being laid before the paving is done.

We hope the contractor for the grading and paving of Townsend street will push his work and complete the job as soon as soon as possible after the paving is done.

Tobacco Stamps.

The new stamps for manufactured tobacco are now coming into general use and attract some attention. The large stamps are for one pound, ten pound, and twenty pound packages. The one pound stamp is printed in plain black, and is graced with the figure of a smoker; the ten pound stamps are in color similar to the three cent. postage stamps, and bear the pictured representation of an Indian; the twenty pound stamps are in a bright green, and very handsomely engraved. There are also stamps for one ounce, two ounce and eight ounce packages. These are about the size of the postoffice stamp. The tax is thirty-five cents per pound. The stamps for cigars are for packages of fifty and one hundred. The tax on cigars is five dollars per thousand.

Youthful Thieves.

Sunday afternoon, a number of lads, ranging in ages from ten to fifteen years, broke into the stable of Mr. W. J. Gibson, on Webster street, Allegheny, and stole a quantity of goods from a notion wagon in the building. A portion of the goods was subsequently discovered in a neighboring yard. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Gibson obtained a clue to the youthful depredators and lodged an information against Frank Lynch, John Woods and Addison Elsessor for larceny, upon which, a warrant was issued. This is the third time a similar robbery has occurred, and Mr. Gibson is determined to put an end to any further operations.

Distressing Accident—Little Boy Killed.

Yesterday evening, about twenty minutes to five o'clock, a painful accident occurred in Allegheny, resulting in the almost instant death of Joseph Albree, a lad aged about ten years, eldest son of Joseph Albree, Jr., the well known shoe dealer. The little fellow, in company with a younger brother, was playing around the platform at the Freight Depot of the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, in the rear of the Catholic Church, Anderson street. At the time a number of freight cars were standing on the track alongside the platform, which were being coupled together to make up a train. Two cars at the head of the train had just been coupled, in doing which they came together with considerable force, causing those in the rear to be forced backward. At this instant the men heard a scream, and upon looking back, saw one of the boys screaming and gesticulating for the train to move on. Running to the place, they discovered the oldest boy crushed between the bumper of the rear car and the "bumping block" placed at the end of the track.

The little victim was quickly extricated, but never spoke or opened his eyes and ceased to breathe in about two minutes afterwards. A physician was summoned, but when he arrived life was extinct. The blood oozed from the mouth and nose, but when examined there were no external signs of injury save a black spot on his breast, where the greatest force seems to have been felt. He was removed to the residence of his parents, at the corner of Cedar avenue and Avery street, Fourth ward.

The officers of the train say they never noticed the lads until attracted by the screams of the younger one. This one says he and his brother had been running backward and forward between the "bumping block" and the car in playing, and had done so several times before the accident occurred. The Coroner has been notified and will hold an inquest on the remains to-day.

Mrs. Barclay's Lecture.

In announcing the free lecture of this lady for last night our types were so misused as to fail entirely of our object. Mrs. Barclay delivered her first lecture at the Sixth U. P. Church, (Dr. A. D. Clarke's,) in the Fifth ward, Allegheny, formerly known as Manchester. Her course of lectures will be continued at the same place every evening of the present week.

Mrs. Barclay is a lady of imposing presence, of many and varied attainments, has a chaste and eloquent elocution, and comes among us well accredited, as well for her moral as for high intellectual characteristics. Her subject, "How to Get Health and How to Keep It," has been with her a special study. She treats it with such marked ability and in a way so practical and useful to her audiences of whatever age or sex, that we hope large numbers will attest, by their presence, their sense of the great merit of the accomplished lecturer, and thus induce her to re-visit the city on some future occasion.

Recovered.

Some time since, as our readers will remember, the leather store of Messrs. Spangler & Graham, Allegheny Diamond, was robbed of a considerable quantity of leather. A part of the property was found in an alley in the rear of the establishment the next morning. Sunday afternoon a large piece of leather was found by some boys at the mouth of the West Common sewer. Thinking there might be more of the article near by the boys went into the sewer, and and about twelve feet from the entrance they discovered a roll made fast to the upper part of the arch, clear of the water. The police were informed, and the leather removed to the Mayor's office, where a portion of it was identified by Messrs. Spangler & Graham yesterday morning. There is yet no clue to the thieves.

Tried to Settle.

Joseph Isreal, like Pickwick, a single gentleman, obtained lodging at a boarding house on Sixth street, some weeks since. Becoming desirous of changing his quarters yesterday, it is stated, he attempted to leave the old place without settling up his score. This proceeding agitated and exasperated the proprietor of the establishment, Mr. Charles Rauhm, who thereupon attempted to settle the matter by inflicting a severe chastisement on his delinquent boarder. The victim, believing this treatment to be entirely uncalled for, lodged information for assault and battery against his assailant before Alderman McMasters. The accused was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

Reported Outrage on a Child.

The Evening Mail yesterday contained the following telegram from Homewood, Pa. We could not learn any additional particulars:

"A little girl only eight years of age, daughter of one of our most respectable citizens was waylaid last night about nine o'clock, while returning home from her Aunt's by two negroes, who outraged her person and inflicted such serious injury that her life is despaired of. The fiends have been prowling in the neighborhood for the past few days under most suspicious circumstances and it is a matter of deep regret that they were not arrested for vagrancy. Every effort is being made to effect their capture.

The Musical Jubilee.

We learn that the club now being organized in this city to participate in the grand National Musical Jubilee to take place in Boston next June, is pretty well made up, but not yet sufficiently full to properly represent the musical and art-loving portion of the community. Prof. Lawton is anxious to secure more delegates, and has his books open at Barr, Knake and Buettler's popular music store, No. 12 St. Clair street, where all who wish to attend as delegates should immediately register their names before it is too late. The delegates will enjoy unusual privileges and courtesies, and it is to be hoped that Pittsburgh will be fairly represented.

Felonious Assault and Battery.

Elizabeth Hutchinson made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging her husband, William Hutchinson, with felonious assault and battery. It appears that the parties, who resided at Millerstown, separated some time since, and on the 9th inst., the prosecutrix met her husband in Millerstown, when, she alleges, he made an assault upon her with a butcher knife, striking her in the back, inflicting a severe and dangerous wound. Mrs. H., since the occurrence, has been staying at the Home for Destitute Women. A warrant was issued, and there will be a hearing in the case this afternoon.

For Sheriff.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Elizabeth township, do certify that we are personally acquainted with John A. Watson, of our township, and cordially recommend him to the Republican voters of Allegheny county as a person who is in all respects qualified to discharge the duties of Sheriff. At the breaking out of the great rebellion Mr. Watson and his son, a boy seventeen years of age, left their home in Elizabeth township and enlisted as private soldiers in Company D, 79th Penna. Volunteers, for three years or during the war. He served in Tennessee, Alabama and Kentucky, and in October, 1862, at the battle of Perryville, Kentucky, was shot through the body, and at the time thought to be mortally wounded. He has been unable to perform any manual labor since. His son was badly wounded in the same battle. Both father and son were honorably discharged, as their wounds disabled them for further service. Mr. Watson is a poor man, with a large family, and is fully qualified, and if any soldier is entitled to an office for service and wounds, he is, and we ask our fellow citizens to join with us in giving him the office of Sheriff.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The audience at the Opera House last evening was quite large and highly appreciative. Mr. and Mrs. Watkins were favorably received and, we have no doubt, will draw full houses during their engagement. "Trodden down; or, Under Two Flags," was presented in an admirable manner. The piece will be repeated to-night.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—The Old Theatre was filled from pit to gallery again last night. Mr. James Taylor, the inimitable comique vocalist, is the chief attraction. But there are a number of others connected with the establishment who have become exceedingly popular, foremost among whom is Lilly Becket.

MASONIC HALL.—To-morrow evening we are to be favored with a visit from the irrepressible Sam Sharpley and his excellent troupe, who will commence an engagement of three nights only, at Masonic Hall.

LAFAYETTE HALL.—The original "Old Folks" of this city, will give two grand concerts, in full costume, at Lafayette Hall, Thursday and Friday evenings next.

Alleged False Pretence.

Lewis Hilkey made information before Alderman M'Masters, yesterday, against Charles Hazen for false pretence. The prosecutor keeps a grocery store at Woods' Run, M'Clure township. He alleges Hazen some time ago obtained eighteen dollars worth of groceries on credit, by representing that he owned a farm in Beaver county, and about two hundred and thirty acres of land in Illinois. Subsequently Hazen removed from Woods' Run to the Ninth ward, this city, it is said, without settling the bill, and upon inquiry, these representations were found to be false. A warrant for his arrest was issued.
